Graham: Hi, my name's Graham. Nice to meet you.

Elsa: Nice to meet you, too. I'm Elsa.

Graham: What do you do Elsa?

Elsa: I'm an engineer.

Graham: An engineer. That's an interesting job!

Elsa: Yes, it is, but it's difficult sometimes. What do you do?

Graham: I'm a forest ranger.

Elsa: Really? What's that like? Is it exciting?

Graham: Yes, most of the time, but sometimes it's boring.

Just me and the trees!

GOAL CHECK*Describe People and Occupations

Think of a new name and occupation for yourself. Then work with a partner and start a new conversation.

- Introduce yourself.
- Ask about your partner's occupation.
- Describe your occupation.

GOAL Compare People's JobsReading

A Look at the photos. What do you think the people in the article do?

B Read the article. Circle T for true and F for false.

1. A job with a good salary is always interesting. T F
2. Animals are not easy to photograph. T F
3. Jeff says his job is boring. T F
4. Maritza is from Mexico. T F
5. There are tables and chairs in her classroom. T F
6. Ross and Marty work in one place. T F
7. They like Patagonia because every day is different. T F

C Answer the questions.

1. What does Jeff do?

2. Do you think Jeff is happy?

3. Where is Maritza's classroom?

4. What are her lessons about?

5. What do Ross and Marty do?

6. Where is Patagonia?

D Complete the chart. Write one job in each box.

	Good salary	Bad salary
Interesting
Boring Difficult
Easy

GOAL CHECK

In pairs, compare your answers in D. Then discuss which job on your lists is the best. Why?

The Best Job in the World

What is a good job? Is it a job with a good salary? Not always. For some people, their salary is good, but their job is boring. And for other people, their salary isn't good, but the job is easy. And some people are happy because their jobs are interesting. Let's meet some people with great jobs.

Maritza Morales Casanova is Mexican and she's from Merida. She's a teacher, but there are no tables or chairs in her classroom because it's a park. The children learn about nature in the park. She says, "Empower children with information... and they will change the world."

Jeff Kerby is a National Geographic photographer. Animals are difficult to photograph, so the job isn't easy. Sometimes the job is very difficult, but when you have a bad day, you look at the beautiful views and, Jeff says, "life isn't so bad, in fact, it's really interesting."

Ross Donihue and Marty Schnure are mapmakers. For their job, they travel and they make digital maps of different parts of the world. One of their favorite places is Patagonia, in Argentina. Ross says, "I love Patagonia because no two days are the same. Every day is different."

E GOAL Write a Personal Description

Communication

A Read the ad for college jobs. Answer the questions.

1. When are the jobs for? _____
2. Who is the ad for? _____
3. What are the three jobs? _____

WORD FOCUS

assistant a person who helps (the manager)

ARE YOU A STUDENT?

There are jobs for you in July and August!

- Summer school assistants: Play sports and games with children
- Waiters at a pizza restaurant: At lunchtime and in the evening
- Cashier in a supermarket: The pay is good!

Email: info@summerjobs.com

B Work with a partner. Which adjectives describe the three jobs? Use words from the unit or others you know.

C Which summer job is good for you? Why? Tell your partner.

This job is good because...

... it's interesting.

... I like children.

... it's easy.

D Read about three students in Toronto, Canada. Complete the notes in this table.

Name	Age	Home Country	Type of Student
Tanya	20
Mateo		Colombia
Aya			Tourism

Tanya Hello. My name's Tanya and I'm 20 years old. I'm from Australia, but I'm in Toronto now. I'm a business student.

Mateo Hi. I'm Mateo Gomez and I'm 23 years old. I'm from Colombia. In Bogota I'm a teacher, but this year I'm a student in Toronto. I study English because I want to teach it back home.

Aya My name's Aya. Most of my family is Japanese, but I'm from Singapore. I'm 20 years old and I'm a tourism student.

E Which job in A is good for each of the students in D? Talk about the students with your partner.

Summer school assistant is good for...because he / she...

Writing

WRITING SKILL: Using Conjunctions

When you use short sentences all the time (e.g., I'm from Australia. I'm 20 years old.), your writing isn't interesting. Writing is better with conjunctions (and, but) that connect short sentences to make longer ones.

F Compare the sentences. Then complete the rules with and and but.

My name's Tanya. I'm 20 years old. I'm from Australia. I'm in Toronto now.

My name's Tanya and I'm 20 years old. I'm from Australia, but I'm in Toronto now.

1. ____ is for extra information. 2. ____ is for different information.

G Underline and and but in the personal information in D.

H Complete the sentences with and or but.

1. Angeline is from Brazil ____ she's 18 years old.
2. Asef is a student in England, ____ he's from Jordan.
3. I'm 35 years old ____ I'm a photographer.
4. My mother is Spanish, ____ my father isn't. He's Chinese.
5. She's 21 ____ I'm 21, too.

GOAL CHECK Write a Personal Description

Write a personal description with and and but. Write about your:

- name.
- country.
- age.
- occupation.

Include other interesting information. Then share your descriptions in small groups.

Hi, I'm Andrés Ruzo. I'm from Peru, but I live in the US.
I'm a scientist and a National Geographic Explorer.

VIDEO JOURNAL

WHERE I AM A LOCAL

A Answer the questions.

1. Where are you from?
2. Where do you live now?
3. Where do you feel at home?

B Watch the interviews. Where are the people from?

4.

C Where do the people feel at home? Complete the quotes from the video.

1. I live in .
2. I speak a little bit, Russian, Portuguese, and .
3. I would say right now is my home.
4. I identify myself as from , not from a single city.

D Watch the rest of the video. Circle T for true or F for false.

1. Taiye says that “Where are you from?” is a difficult question.
2. Taiye’s parents live in Ghana.
3. Taiye lived in the UK for a long time.
4. Taiye lives in the US.
5. The question “Where are you a local?” is about people, not places.
6. Taiye is a local in Lisbon.
7. A place is local if people you love are there.
8. You can only be a local in one country.

T	F

E MY WORLD Think about the question Where are you a local? Is it an easy or difficult question for you to answer? Why?

F Prepare a two-minute presentation about yourself called Where I am a local. Present your talk to the class or make a video to share with the class. You can use your notes from A and some of these phrases:

Hello. My name is...

My presentation is about the question “Where are you from?”

For me, it’s an easy / difficult question.

I’m... years old and I’m a...

I was born in...

My parents are from...

I live in... I study...

So the question “Where are you a local?” is an easy / difficult question for me.

1. Think about your answers to these questions.

- What are your hobbies and interests?
- Why do you like them?

2. Work in groups and tell each other your answers.

I love...

My favorite hobby is...

I like it because...

3. MY WORLD Do you think your hobby can also be your job someday? How? Tell your group.

When Your Hobby Is Also Your Job

Every day, we eat, sleep, and work, but most people also want more free time for their hobbies and interests. Maybe they want to play more sports, learn a musical instrument, or even write a book, but they don't have the time. It's a problem for many, but the answer is simple when your hobby is also your job!

Leyla Kazim is a good example of how to have a passion and make money from it. Leyla loves travel, photography, and food, so she writes a blog. "I spend most of my time either eating, traveling, or creating content about the two," she says. Leyla's blog has more than 100,000 followers and, because the blog is so popular, she also works with food companies and restaurants.

Michael Gazaleh is another person with a hobby that's also his job. He loves running in his free time and he also loves showing people his home city of New York. So his company, City Running Tours, gives tours of cities to people who also like running. "Every day, we get to run with wonderful people from all over the world," he says. Michael's company now has running tours in 14 different cities in the US and Canada.

Leyla and Michael both love their job because it's also their hobby. So, do you have a hobby or a passion? How can you make it your job?

passion something you love doing

Claudia: I want to visit Japan next year. Can you give me some advice?

Ayumi: Sure, it's an interesting country.

Claudia: Do you think I should go in the summer?

Ayumi: You can, but it's very hot. I think you should go in the spring. It's a beautiful time of year, and the Japanese gardens are famous.

Claudia: OK. And do I need to rent a car?

Ayumi: No, you don't need to. It's a good idea to take trains because they're fast between the big cities.

Claudia: Right. I fly into Tokyo. Is Tokyo expensive?

Ayumi: Very! And it's so crowded. Why don't you stay in Fujiyoshida? It's not too far from Tokyo. It's a small city near Mount Fuji and the hotels are nice.

GOAL CHECK

In small groups, plan an interesting vacation for friends visiting your country.

1. Your friends have three days in your country. Write down what they can do on each day:

Day one	Day two	Day three

2. Present your plan to another group. Do you think the other group has an interesting vacation?

Aziz Abu Sarah has a travel company and often gives advice to tourists. Here he answers the question: "How can a vacation be more interesting?"

Don't plan everything

Tourists often study maps and plan everything before they go on vacation. It's fun to go sightseeing, but sometimes it's interesting to leave the map at the hotel. For example, you can leave the city center and visit new places. When I was in Tokyo for the first time, I traveled to the suburbs. Two hours later, I was singing karaoke and dancing with local people.

Try the local food

Eating local food always makes a vacation more interesting. Go to food markets where local people sell fresh food that they grew or cooked. In these places, you learn more about their food and culture. It's much more interesting than going to a supermarket—and the food is better!

Find out where local people go

When you arrive in a new place, find out about festivals and events. Local magazines and posters have information about art galleries and live music. If you like sports, find out where people play. A few years ago, I was in Tunisia and I played soccer on the beach with a group of local men.

Ask for advice and suggestions

All around the world, people are always happy to give advice. Don't always use the guidebook or the internet. Ask local people for suggestions on where to go or where to eat. Once, in Curitiba, Brazil, I asked a local group where I should have dinner in the city. They invited me for dinner and I am still friends with them!

Aziz Abu Sarah at the Matterhorn in Switzerland.

Communication

A What is your “dream” vacation? Why?

B You win a vacation for two people and can choose from the three places below. In pairs, discuss the places and choose one. Present and explain your decision to the class.

Angkor Wat is good...

I prefer a vacation at the beach.

Angkor Wat, Cambodia	Adventure sports, New Zealand	Bahia beaches, Brazil
The temples at Angkor Wat in Cambodia are from the 12th century and are very beautiful. It's a famous place, so thousands of tourists visit every day.	Tourists come to New Zealand because it has an amazing countryside. It's perfect for canoeing in the rivers and bungee jumping off bridges.	The coast of Bahia is 685 miles long, so you can always find a quiet beach during the day. Then you can go to a beach bar at night and dance until the morning.

C In small groups, read comments from six tourists about vacations. Recommend a vacation from B or choose a new vacation. Give reasons.

1. “I like vacations with exercise and lots of things to do.”
2. “After working all year, I want to relax by the ocean.”
3. “I like sightseeing and visiting interesting places with a lot of history.”
4. “I want to meet new people and go to parties!”
5. “I live in a crowded city, so I want to go to a place with nature and no people.”
6. “I always go to the same place. This year, I want to do something exciting!”

This person should choose...

...because it has...

...because you can...

Angkor Wat, Cambodia

D MY WORLD Think about the six tourists in C. Which tourist is most similar to you?

Writing

WRITING SKILL: Conjunctions – because, so

Action + because + reason

Tourists come to New Zealand because it has an amazing countryside.

Every summer, people go camping in Scotland because it's relaxing and cheap.

Reason + so + action

Angkor Wat is a famous place in Cambodia, so thousands of tourists visit every day.

The coast of Bahia is 685 miles long, so you can always find a quiet beach.

E Underline because or so to complete the sentences.

1. Venice is popular with tourists because / so it's a beautiful old city surrounded by water.
2. In Japan, the trains are fast, because / so you can travel quickly between cities.
3. New Orleans is crowded in March because / so the festival of Mardi Gras is during that month.
4. In some parts of Norway, it is dark for 20 hours a day in the winter, because / so visitors should go in the summer.
5. Mexico City has amazing museums, because / so it's perfect if you love history.
6. A lot of people visit Peru every year because / so it has interesting places and delicious food.

F Look back at the three descriptions in B. Check (✓) what they describe.

<input type="checkbox"/> An interesting place for sightseeing	<input type="checkbox"/> A festival or special event
<input type="checkbox"/> The local food and drink	<input type="checkbox"/> Places for relaxation
<input type="checkbox"/> Sports and entertainment

GOAL CHECK Describe a Place

Write a short description of a different place. Give information about things like sightseeing, festivals, places for relaxation, food, etc. Try to use the conjunctions because and so.

Cartagena, Colombia, has a lot of beautiful and historic buildings, so it's great for sightseeing. There are a lot of good restaurants, too. People also visit because you can swim or relax in the sun on the beaches nearby.

- B. Order a Meal
- C. Talk about Diets
- D. Plan a Farm or Garden
- E. Follow and Give Instructions

AGOAL Describe a RecipeVocabulary

A In pairs, choose a word or phrase from the box to describe each group of foods.

dairy products drinks fruit meat vegetables

B In pairs, think of some other foods you know and write them in the correct group. Then share them with the class.

C What are your favorite foods? Choose one from each group.

GrammarCount and Non-count Nouns

Singular	Plural
This is a lemon. This is milk.	These are lemons. These are milks.

	Count Nouns		Non-count Nouns
	Singular	Plural
Statement	We need an apple.	There are some apples on the table.	There is some cheese on the table.
Negative	I don't have a lemon.	There aren't any lemons at the store.	We don't have any milk.
Question	Do we have a red pepper?	Are there any red peppers?	Do you have any butter?

D In your notebook, make a chart with two columns: Count nouns and Non-count nouns. Write the food words from A and B in the correct column.

E 18 Complete the conversation with a / an, some, or any. Then listen and check.

Lee: I'm hungry. What's in the fridge?
Diana: There are (1) _____ eggs.

Diana: No, but I have (6) _____ corn oil. That should be okay.
Lee: Sure. And we need (7) _____ potatoes.
Diana: I don't have (8) _____ potatoes, but I can go to the store.
Lee: OK, I'll start cooking.

F Practice the conversation in pairs. Switch roles and practice it again.

G In pairs, make two new conversations using the ingredients below. Use the conversation in E as a model.

Quiche
• eggs
• cheese
• milk
• onion
• salt and pepper

Frittata
• butter
• eggs
• cheese
• turkey bacon
• tomato

REAL LANGUAGE
Pad thai is a popular dish in my country.
This is the recipe for frittata.
You need these ingredients: butter, eggs, a tomato...

H Think of a popular dish in your country and write down the ingredients.

GOAL CHECK Describe a Recipe

Tell a partner the name of your dish and ask them for the ingredients you need to make it.

Listening

A 19 Listen to a conversation in a restaurant. Write the man's and woman's order in the chart below.

	Drink	Food
Man Woman

B 19 Who asked these questions, the man, the woman, or the waiter? Write your answers. Then listen again to check.

1. Can we order our drinks first? man
2. Do you have any mineral water? _____

Kim: Mmm, sounds good! Maybe I'll try your diet.

REAL LANGUAGE

What do you eat every day? = What's your typical diet?

What can you eat on this diet? = What are you allowed to eat on this special diet?

SPEAKING STRATEGY

Talking about Quantities

How much / many (meat / vegetables) do / can you eat?
Just a little / few.
I don't / can't eat much / many...

Do / Can you eat lots of...?
Yes, lots of... / Yes, a lot.
No, not much / many.

F Practice the conversation in pairs. Switch roles and practice again.

G Think about your own diet or a special diet you know about. Make a list of:

- food you normally eat (or you can eat).
- food you don't eat (or you can't eat).

GOAL CHECK Talk about Diets

In pairs, ask and answer questions about your diet, or a special diet you know. Use your list from G.

D GOAL Plan a Farm or Garden

Reading

A In pairs, say three things you can see in the photo.

B Read the article and answer the questions.

1. Who is the photographer?
2. What do his photos show?
3. Where can you eat fresh vegetables and watch baseball?
4. Who takes once a week classes in gardening?
5. How many people live in the world's cities?

C Match the words from the article to the definitions.

1. urban _____	a. a large area of land for growing food
2. farm _____	b. to put something in the ground to grow
3. garden _____	c. an area of land with flowers, fruit, and vegetables
4. to grow _____	d. good for your body
5. to plant _____	e. good for mental health
6. volunteers _____	f. in the city
7. therapeutic e _____	g. to increase in size
8. healthy _____	h. people who work for free

D MY WORLD Ask and answer the questions in small groups.

1. Do you have a garden or farm? If yes, what do you grow?
2. Are you a volunteer? What do you do?
3. What healthy activities do you do in your free time? Are they also therapeutic?

✓ GOAL CHECK

In a small group, plan an urban farm or garden.

1. Say why your city needs an urban farm or garden.
2. Discuss its location.
3. List the types of plants you will grow.
4. Make a poster to advertise your urban farm or garden. Show the location and list your food.
5. Present your poster to the class.

Urban Farming

Volunteers work at the White House garden.

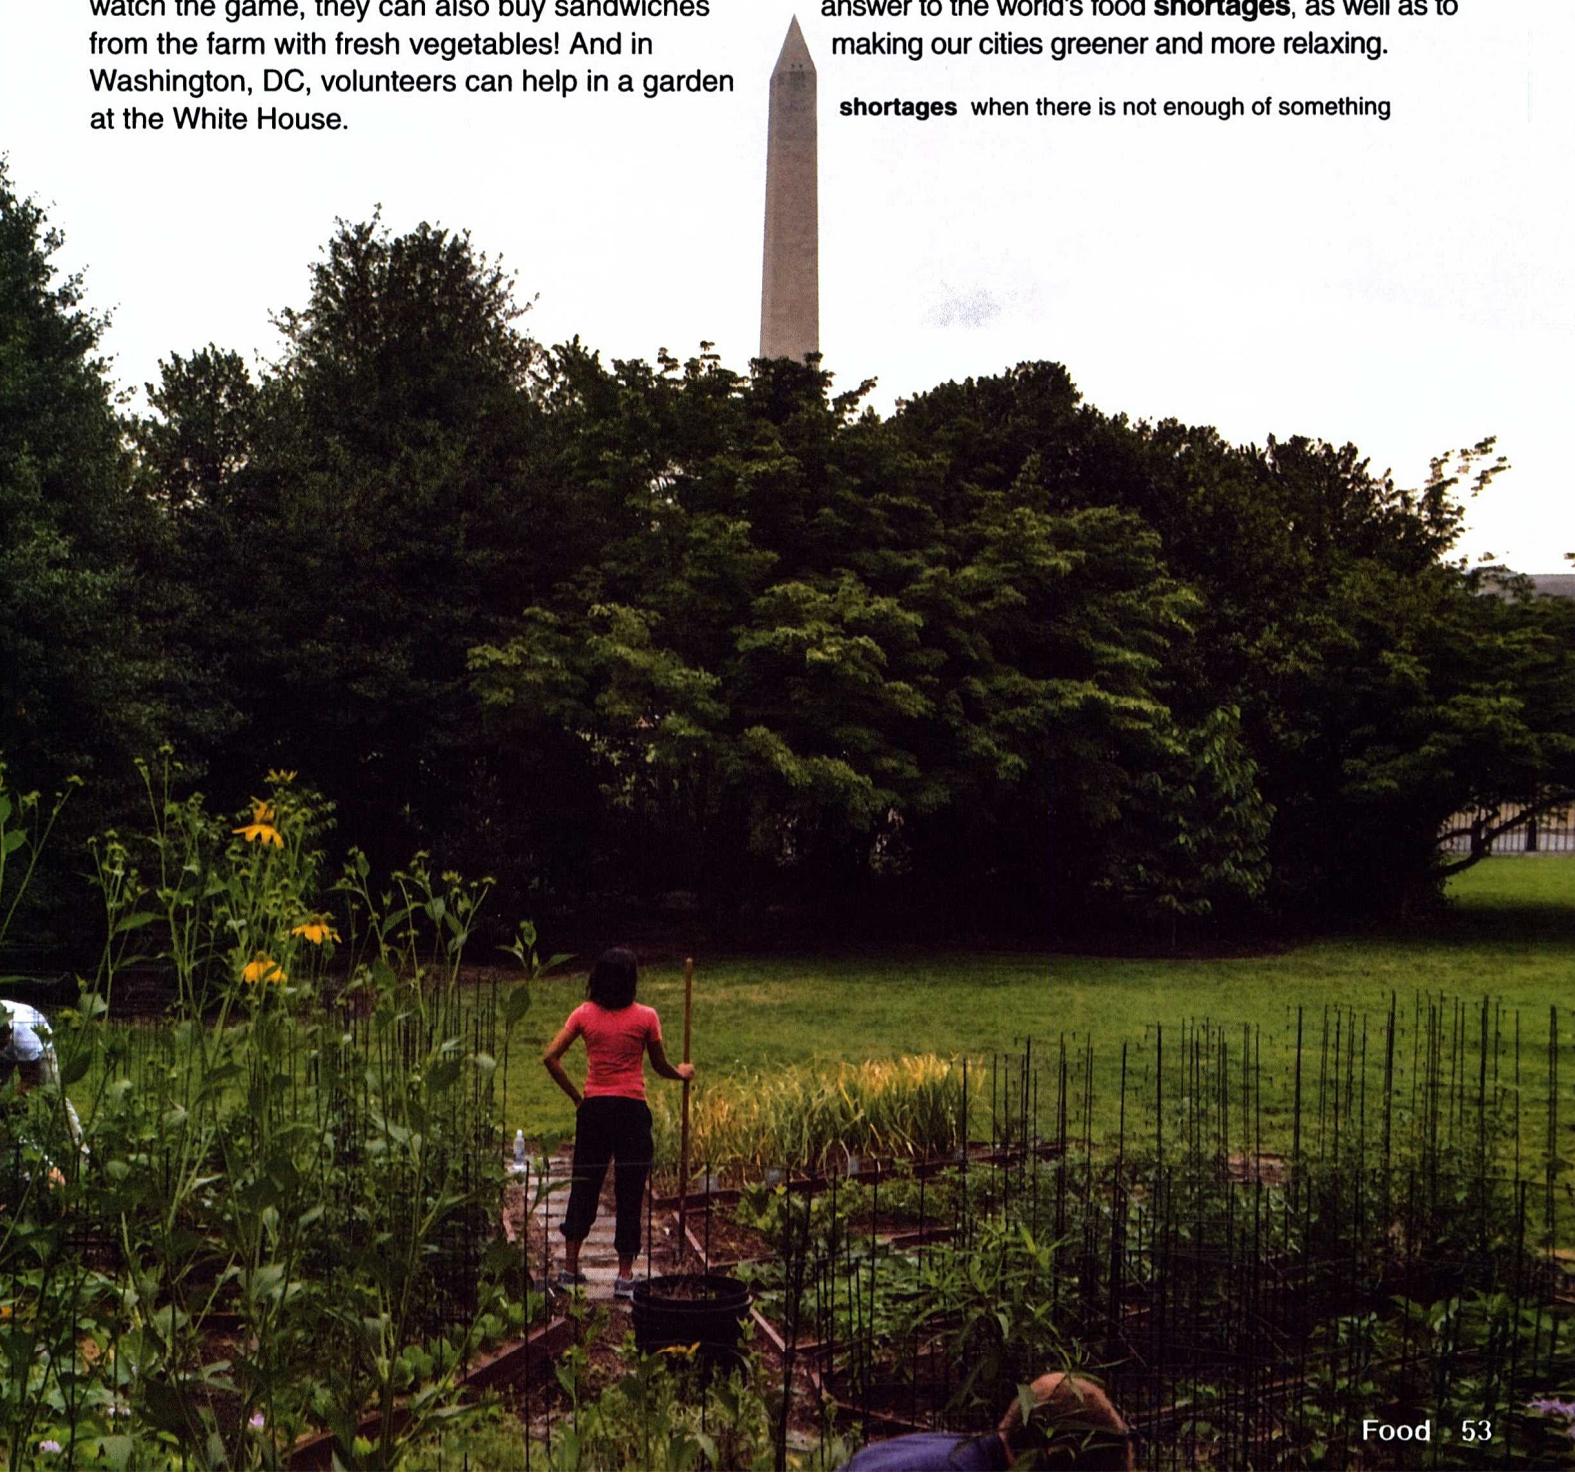

Mario Wezel is a German photographer who takes photos for National Geographic. Mario is interested in urban farming, so many of his photos show farmers and gardeners. However, urban farming is different from traditional farming. It's when people farm and garden in the middle of the city.

Mario traveled to urban farms all over the US. In Boston, one man has bees on the roof of the Lenox Hotel. The hotel uses honey from the bees in its restaurant. In San Francisco, there's a small farm next to the Giants' baseball stadium. When people watch the game, they can also buy sandwiches from the farm with fresh vegetables! And in Washington, DC, volunteers can help in a garden at the White House.

For Mario, the most surprising urban farm is at San Quentin State Prison, in California. The prison has a garden and, once a week, prisoners can take a gardening class. They learn how to grow plants and flowers. Working in the garden is also therapeutic.

Mario's photos are all of the US, but you can find urban farms in a lot of different countries and large cities, such as Tokyo, Lima, and Perth. That's because about 3.5 billion people (half the world's population) live in cities today and they want fresh, healthy food. And more and more people think urban farming is the answer to the world's food shortages, as well as to making our cities greener and more relaxing.

shortages when there is not enough of something

CommunicationA Read the instructions for The Food Game. Then play the game in small groups.

First, go to the START square. Next, take turns flipping a coin. Move 1 square for heads or 2 squares for tails. Then, follow the instructions on the square. Finally, the first person to reach FINISH is the winner.

THE FOOD GAME!

START

1. Say five vegetables.

2. Say five types of fruit.

3. Say the ingredients for a dish.

4. Ask another player a question with *Would you like...?FINISH

You win the game!

9. Ask another player a question with How much...?

10. Give two reasons for growing your own food.

8. Describe your favorite meal. Is it healthy?

7. Ask another player a question with How many...?

6. You are late for dinner! Miss one turn.

5. You are a waiter. Ask another player for their order in a restaurant.

Writing

WRITING SKILL: Sequencing Information

Use sequencing words to give instructions:

First, ...

Next, ...

Then, ...

After (that), ...

Meanwhile, ... (= at the same time)

Finally, / Last of all, ...

Note: We normally use a comma after a sequencing word: First, you need to...

B Read the instructions for the game again. Underline the sequencing words.

C Put these instructions in the correct order for a recipe for spaghetti Bolognese.

- ____ After that, take the pasta out of the water.
- ____ Finally, it's ready to eat!
- ____ Meanwhile, heat the Bolognese sauce in a pan.
- ____ First, heat some water in a pot.
- ____ Then, put the pasta and the sauce on the plates.
- ____ Next, put the pasta in the pot for ten minutes.

D Complete the sequencing words in these instructions.

Hi! Would you like to have dinner at my house? It's easy to get here.

(1) F_____ , take the train to the main station. (2) T_____ , take bus number 36 to the movie theater. (It takes about 5 minutes.) (3) A_____ t_____ , walk down Decatur Avenue. (4) F_____ , turn left on Port Street. My house is number 15.

GOAL CHECK Follow and Give Instructions

1. Choose one of these:
 - Instructions for a recipe
 - Instructions for a game
 - Instructions to get to your house
2. Write your instructions using sequencing words.
3. Exchange instructions with a partner. Can you understand each other's instructions?

2. You can do this sport in a pool: _____
3. You play this sport with a ball: _____
4. This sport is like running: _____
5. You do these sports in the winter: _____

C Think of a sport. Write some clues about it. Then read your clues to a partner. Can they guess your sport?

Two people play this with a ball.

Is it basketball?

No, only two people play and the ball is smaller.

Is it tennis?

Yes!

Grammar

Present Continuous

Statement	I'm jogging	(now).
Negative	He isn't jogging
Yes / No Questions	Are they climbing	(now)?
Wh- Questions	What are you doing

Form the present continuous with be + verb + -ing.

Use the present continuous to talk about things that are happening now (or around the time of speaking).

D Complete the messages with the present continuous.

Hana: Hi! What (1) are you doing (you / do)?

Pedro: I'm with Ben. We (2) _____ (play) tennis. Are you at the gym?

Hana: No, I (3) _____ (not / go) to the gym today.

eSports Go Global

In the past, people played computer games in their living rooms and bedrooms against their family and friends. But nowadays, gamers play online against hundreds of different people around the world. There are also millions of fans who love watching these eSports as well as playing. They pay money to watch the very best gamers compete in large stadiums. It's just like watching a real sport!

Like other sports

"eSports" is short for electronic sports and, as with normal sports such as soccer and tennis, professional eSports players are very competitive. Like real athletes, the best eSports players can train for up to 14 hours a day. In some countries, like China and South Korea, there are competitions in stadiums with up to 80,000 fans. At these events, some of the eSports are individual, but most of them are team games. There are five players on each team and the winning team shares the prize money.

Big business

As eSports are growing in popularity, they are also becoming profitable. Globally, the eSports industry is worth about a billion dollars. Large companies sponsor the competitions, and some soccer teams also have their own eSports teams.

But is it a sport?

Of course, some people don't believe it's a real sport because eSports players sit in chairs and they are not physically active. But eSports fans disagree. The players need a lot of skill to win the competitions and, in the future, some people even think eSports will be part of the Olympic Games.

GOAL CHECK

Describe your ancient place to another pair.

Most people travel to relax, but some people travel to explore new places. In 1911, an American archaeologist named Hiram Bingham traveled to Peru, where he was the first foreigner to see Machu Picchu, the lost city of the Incas. Read his report of the journey.

In 1911, I went to Cuzco, in Peru, looking for ancient Inca ruins. We left Cuzco and traveled to the modern city of Urubamba. We then continued down the Urubamba River until we came to the beautiful little town of Ollantaytambo. We continued down the river, and six days after we left Cuzco, we arrived at a place called Mandorpampa. A man came and introduced himself as Arteaga, and I asked him about ruins. He told us of some ruins in the mountains, called Machu Picchu. I offered to pay him 50 cents per day to take us to the ruins, and he agreed.

The next day, we crossed the river and began an exhausting climb. At noon, we arrived at a little grass hut. The people there were very friendly and gave us some boiled potatoes and cool water. The view was magnificent and the water was delicious, but there were no ruins. However, we continued upward until at last we arrived on top of the mountain. Immediately, we found some ancient Inca walls made of white stone. I knew at once that this was a truly amazing place.

I returned to Machu Picchu in 1912, and we began to clear the forest. We started to see the ruins, and they were outstanding. The walls are made from enormous stones, and as we continued to clear the forest, we discovered more and more ruins. At last, the lost city of Machu Picchu appeared before us.

E Are these actions done by humans, elephants, or both?

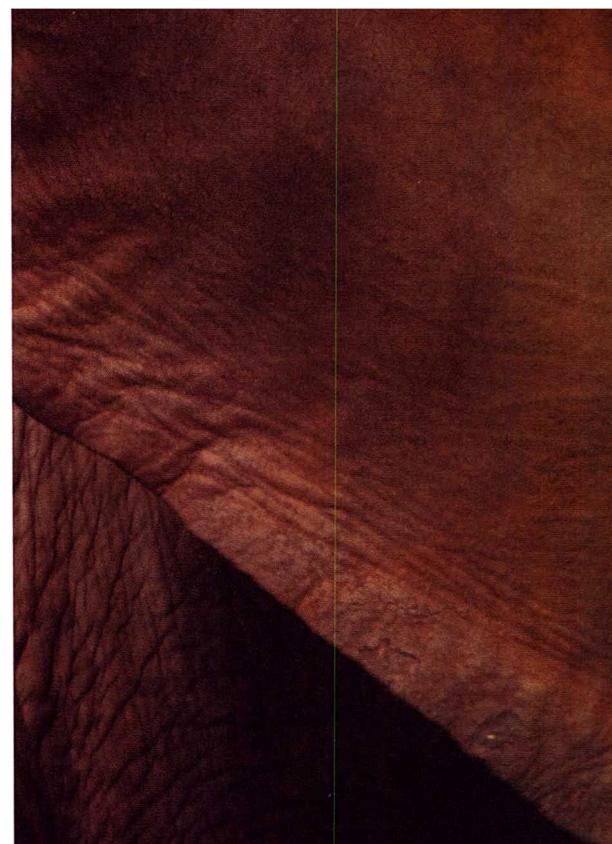

Underline the supporting information in the article.

1. Speak with words and language	humans
2. Spread ears to show anger or aggression
3. Shake their head to disagree
4. Shake their head to show they are happy
5. Touch each other to show their feelings
6. Laugh
7. Have a sense of humor
8. Copy sounds they hear

GOAL CHECK

In groups, describe at least one similarity and one difference between the different types of communication in each pair.

- Human / Animal
- Face-to-face / Electronic
- Speaking / Writing
- Social media / Text

Do you speak “elephant”?

As humans, we communicate using the senses of sight, touch, and hearing. We send messages with body language, we greet friends with touch, and we speak using words to show our emotions and ideas. Animals don't communicate in as many ways as humans—for example, they don't have language like we do—but many animals do also use the senses of sight, touch, and hearing. A good example of this is elephant communication.

Like humans, elephants understand each other by looking at each other's body language. To send a message, they use their whole body, or individually their heads, eyes, mouth, ears, trunk, tail, or feet. For example, elephants spread their ears to show anger. And while humans shake their heads to disagree, elephants do this to show they are happy.

As with humans, touch is also very important between elephants. Just like a human mother holds her baby, a mother elephant regularly touches her young calf with her trunk. Elephants also show they are friendly when they touch other elephants. And when they want to have fun, they hold each other by the trunk and pull, like in this photo. Even if they can't laugh like a human, elephants have a great sense of humor.

Elephants have very large ears, which means they can hear other elephants from as far as 2.5 miles away. Like humans, they can also copy sounds and make their own sounds that seem to communicate basic human words and phrases like, "Hello," "I love you," and "Let's go."

So while it's true that humans are amazing at communication, elephants also communicate in ways that we can't, and that's probably true for other animals, too. The next time your pet dog or cat looks at you, touches you, or makes a noise, it's probably trying to tell you something very important!

Communication

A How often do you use each of the following? Every day, sometimes, or never?

email letter phone call social media text message

B Which types of communication in A would you use in each situation? Fill in the Me column.

You want to...	Me	My partner
1. send a photo to your grandparents.
2. apply for a new job.
3. keep in touch with friends from Brazil.
4. send an assignment to your teacher.
5. invite a friend out tonight.

C Compare your answers in pairs. Fill in the information for your partner. Give reasons for your answers.

Writing

D Read the information below. Then discuss in pairs if you would use formal or informal writing for each situation in B.

WRITING SKILL: Formal and Informal Writing

With formal writing (often to people we don't know), we use full sentences and special expressions:

Dear Mr. Smith, I am writing to apply for the job of... Please see my attached resume.

With informal writing (often to people we know well), we use shorter sentences and contracted forms. Sometimes we also leave words out.

Hi! I'm having a party. Want to come?

A family enjoys a ride at a theme park in Texas, US.

E In pairs, look at the three messages and number them from 1 to 3 (1 = most formal, 3 = least formal). Underline words and phrases that help you decide.

Hi Chen,
I'm having a party. It's my 18th birthday and my family and friends are meeting at a theme park. It'd be great to see you. The invitation is attached with the time, date, and address.
Hope you can come!
Best, Paula

Dear Miss Jones:
I am writing to request information about art courses at your college. I am a student in Argentina and I would like to study art in your country. Also, could you please send me information about accommodation and prices.
Best regards,
Paula Fratelli

Hi! I'm at the theme park. Where r u?

F Match the formal and informal expressions with similar meanings.

1. Dear Miss Jones: f	a. I want
2. I would like... _____	b. I'm writing to tell you...
3. I'd like to request... _____	c. See you soon.
4. Please see the attached photos. _____	d. Thanks for the invite!
5. I am writing to inform you... _____	e. Can I have... ?
6. I look forward to seeing you. _____	f. Hi Jill!
7. Thank you for inviting me. _____	g. Here are the photos.
8. Best regards, _____	h. Bye for now!

GOAL CHECK

Compare Formal and Informal Communication

1. Write two emails.
 - Write a short formal email (60–70 words) to a travel company. You want information about their vacations next summer. Ask for information about their hotels and prices.
 - Write a short informal email (40–50 words) to a friend. You plan to have a party with family and friends for your parents' wedding anniversary. Invite him or her to the party.
2. Exchange emails with a partner. How well does your partner use formal and informal language? Give feedback.

A NEW VIEW OF THE MOON

Filmmaker Wylie Overstreet stands next to his telescope and looks at the moon.

A People often have similar feelings about these things. How do you feel when you...

- see the sun rise or set?
- smell bread in the oven?
- sit in a traffic jam for an hour?
- find a spider in your house?
- see the moon and stars at night?

B In groups, compare your answers in A. Did you all have the same feelings? Why?

C Watch the video. Number the things in the order you see them.

- 1 There is a view of Los Angeles.
- 2 The man asks people if they want to look.
- 3 The man takes his telescope outside.
- 4 A woman says, "You can see the craters!"
- 5 The man takes his telescope away.
- 6 A man takes a photo of the moon.
- 7 A boy tells his brother to look.

D These phrases show surprise. Check (✓) the phrases you hear in the video. Then watch again and check. As you watch, listen to the intonation.

1. No way!
2. Isn't that awesome?
3. That is so cool!
4. What?
5. Fantastic!
6. I've never seen this before!
7. Really?
8. Isn't that amazing?
9. That is incredible!
10. Wow!

E  40 Listen and repeat. Say the expressions in D with surprise and interest.

F Write down three pieces of surprising news to tell a partner. They can be true or untrue. Take turns saying your news and responding with phrases from D.

G Read the quote from the video. Do you agree? Why?

"It makes you realize that we are all on a small little planet and we all have the same reaction to the universe we live in. I think there's something special about that. Something unifying. It's a great reminder that we should look up more often."

reaction something you do in a situation unifying bringing people together reminder something that helps you remember

Making Plans

Look at the photo and answer the questions.

1 What do people at a wedding dream about for the future?

2 What is your dream for the future?

UNIT 8 GOALS

- A. Talk about Plans
- B. Plan a Project
- C. Make Predictions
- D. Solve a Problem
- E. Describe Future Trends

It's a wedding party in Punta del Este, Uruguay. Family and friends push the brother of the bride into a pool.

AGOAL Talk about PlansVocabulary

A Match the plans to the photos. Write the number.

1. buy a new car	6. get married
2. buy my own house	7. have children
3. clean the house	8. speak English fluently
4. do the laundry	9. study for the next test
5. get a new job	10. take a vacation

WORD FOCUS

Short-term means the near future (tomorrow, next week, next month, etc.).

Long-term means the distant future (next year, in five years, etc.).

B Write the plans in A in the correct columns.

Short-term plans	Long-term plans

C Which of the short-term plans in B do you have? Discuss in pairs.

D Number the long-term plans in B in order of importance to you. (1 = most important). Then compare your lists in the same pairs.

GrammarFuture: *Be going to

Statements	We're going to buy a new car tomorrow.
Negative	He's not going to get a new job next year.
Yes / No Questions	Are you going to do the laundry this weekend?
Wh- Questions	When are you going to pay the phone bill?

E 41 Complete this conversation with be going to and the verbs in parentheses. Then listen and check your answers.

Kat: Hey! (1) Are you going to come (you / come) to my party this weekend?

Ben: I'm not sure. I have a test on Monday, so I (2) _____ (study) for that all weekend.

Kat: Which test?

Ben: It's for my Mandarin class. My sister and I (3) _____ (take) a vacation to China next year, so I want to speak the language.

Kat: Wow! That's great. But my party is in the evening and it (4) _____ (be) fun! And you (5) _____ (not / study) all weekend. You (6) _____ (need) a break.

Ben: That's true. OK, see you on Saturday.

REAL LANGUAGE

Say Yes, I am, or No, I'm not when you are certain. Say I'm not sure when you are not certain.

F What are your short-term and long-term plans? Check (✓) the correct column.

Short-term plans

Are you going to ...	Yes, I am.	I'm not sure.	No, I'm not.
eat out tonight?
go to a party tonight?
play or watch a sport this weekend?
rest this weekend?

Long-term plans

Are you going to ...	Yes, I am.	I'm not sure.	No, I'm not.
start your own business?
learn another language?
move to another country?
buy a new car?

G In pairs, ask and answer the questions in F. Then ask a Wh- question for each.

Are you going to start your own business?

Yes, I am.

What type of business are you going to start?

I'm not sure. Maybe a language school.

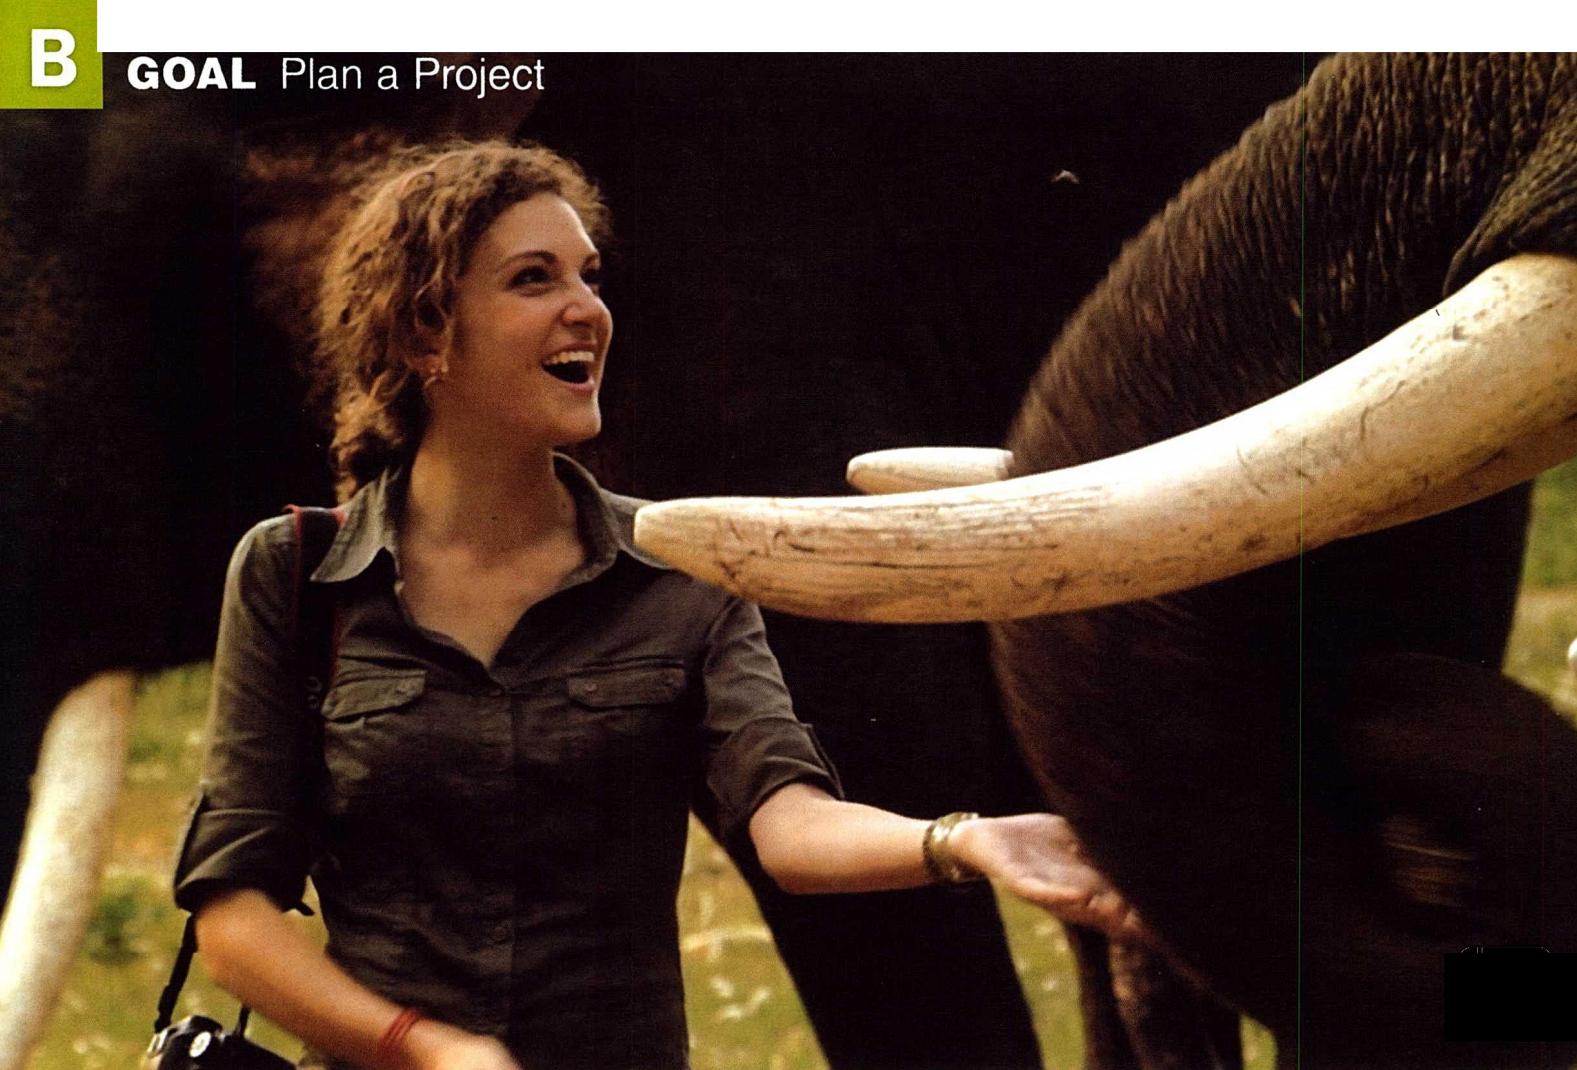

GOAL CHECK Talk about Plans

1. Write three of your short-term plans and three of your long-term plans.
2. In pairs, talk about your plans and ask each other more questions.

I'm going to take a vacation soon.

Where are you going to go?

A Look at the photo. Answer the questions.

1. What do you think Molly Ferrill does?
2. What subject do you think she specializes in?

B 42 Listen to an interview with Molly. Check your answers in A.

C 42 Listen to the interview again. Complete the notes about Molly's next project. Use words from the interview.

WORD FOCUS

D 42 In pairs, compare your answers in C. Then listen again and check.

PRONUNCIATION: Reduced Form of going to 43 In natural speech, going to is often reduced to sound like gonna. The words are combined and the vowels also change. Listen to and repeat the sample sentences.

I'm going to buy a new computer.

Are you going to come?

E 44 Listen to the sentences and check (✓) the correct box.

	Full Form	Reduced Form
1. I'm going to make a video.		✓
2. Are you going to work with anyone else?	✓
3. When are you going to leave?
4. We're going to leave in two months.
5. What special equipment are you going to need for the trip?
6. We're going to pack different types of clothing.
7. When are you going to finish the project?

F In pairs, take turns reading the sentences in E with either the full form or the reduced form. Your partner has to say which form you used.

G In groups, plan one of these projects for your school:

- Create a website with information and news about your school and neighborhood.
- Make a short video called "A day in the life of a student."
- Plan an event to celebrate the end of the year.

GOAL CHECK Plan a Project

1. In your groups, discuss each part of the project and write down information in the table.

What is the project?	When are you going to start and finish?	Who is going to do each part?	What are you going to need?

2. Present your plans for the project to the class or another group. Use going to in your presentation.

We are going to ...

We are going to need ...

Language Expansion: Energy

WORD FOCUS

Renewable energy can always be used (e.g., solar energy).

Non-renewable energy can not be used more than once (e.g., oil).

A Look at the photo and read about Japan. Then answer the questions.

1. What does the photo show?
2. What type of energy will Japan use more in the future?

The Future of Energy in Japan

These are solar panels on the top of a building in Tokyo. Japan will use more renewable energy in the future.

coal gas oil wave
wind wood

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

C Write which types of energy in A and B are renewable and which are non-renewable.

Renewable Energy	Non-renewable Energy

D MY WORLD What types of energy does your country use at the moment?

Grammar

Future: Will

Statements	Japan will use more solar energy in the future.
Negative	It won't use non-renewable energy.
Questions	Will it use renewable energy?	Yes, it will . / No, it won't .
You can use both will and be going to to talk about future predictions. It won't use oil. / It isn't going to use oil.

E Put the words in the correct order.

1. will / my country / use / wind power _____.
2. cars / use / won't / gas _____.
3. speak / English / most people / will _____.
4. live / people / won't / on the Moon _____.

Conversation

F  45 Listen to a conversation between two people from Japan and Scotland.

Rika: I don't think we will use as much non-renewable energy in the next five years, so we'll need lots of solar energy. What about in Scotland? Will you use new types of energy?

Alex: Yes, we will. But we probably won't use a lot of solar energy.

Rika: Will you use wind power?

Alex: Yes, we will. And maybe we'll also use wave energy.

Rika: What's wave energy?

Alex: It's energy from waves in the ocean.

Rika: Wow! That's great.

SPEAKING STRATEGY

Opinions about the Future

I (don't) think we will ...

Maybe we will / won't ...

G In pairs, change the underlined words and make new conversations about your country.

GOAL CHECK Make Predictions

1. Read the questions and write two more in the chart. Check (✓) your answers.

In the future, do you think ...	Me			Partner
	Yes	Maybe	No	Yes	Maybe	No
1. most houses will have solar panels?
2. people will live under the sea?
3. there will be enough food for everyone?
4. summers will be hotter than now?
5. people will travel to Mars?
7.

2. Ask a partner the questions and check (✓) his or her answers. Then compare your answers.

Reading

A Look at the photo. What do you think this person does?

B Read the article and answer the questions.

1. What problem do some people in Myanmar have?
2. What is the solution?

C MY WORLD What is a problem in your town or city? What is the solution?

D Read the article again. Circle T for true or F for false.

1. The writer thinks that most people use electricity.	T F
2. 1.1 billion people in the world have electricity.	T F
3. Candles are not cheap and not safe in Myanmar.	T F
4. The energy for the solar panels comes from the sun.	T F
5. Rubén Salgado Escudero is from Myanmar.	T F
6. Some villages will have larger solar panels in the future.	T F

E Find these sentences in the third paragraph. Write the phrases for giving reasons.

1. Fishermen went fishing before sunrise _____ the solar panels.
2. Children could do their homework _____ electricity.

F Make sentences about solutions and results with the linking phrases in E.

1. There is less pollution / electric cars
There is less pollution because of electric cars.
2. People have jobs / the new office building

3. The new park / local people have a place to relax

4. More people bike to work and school / new bike paths

GOAL CHECK

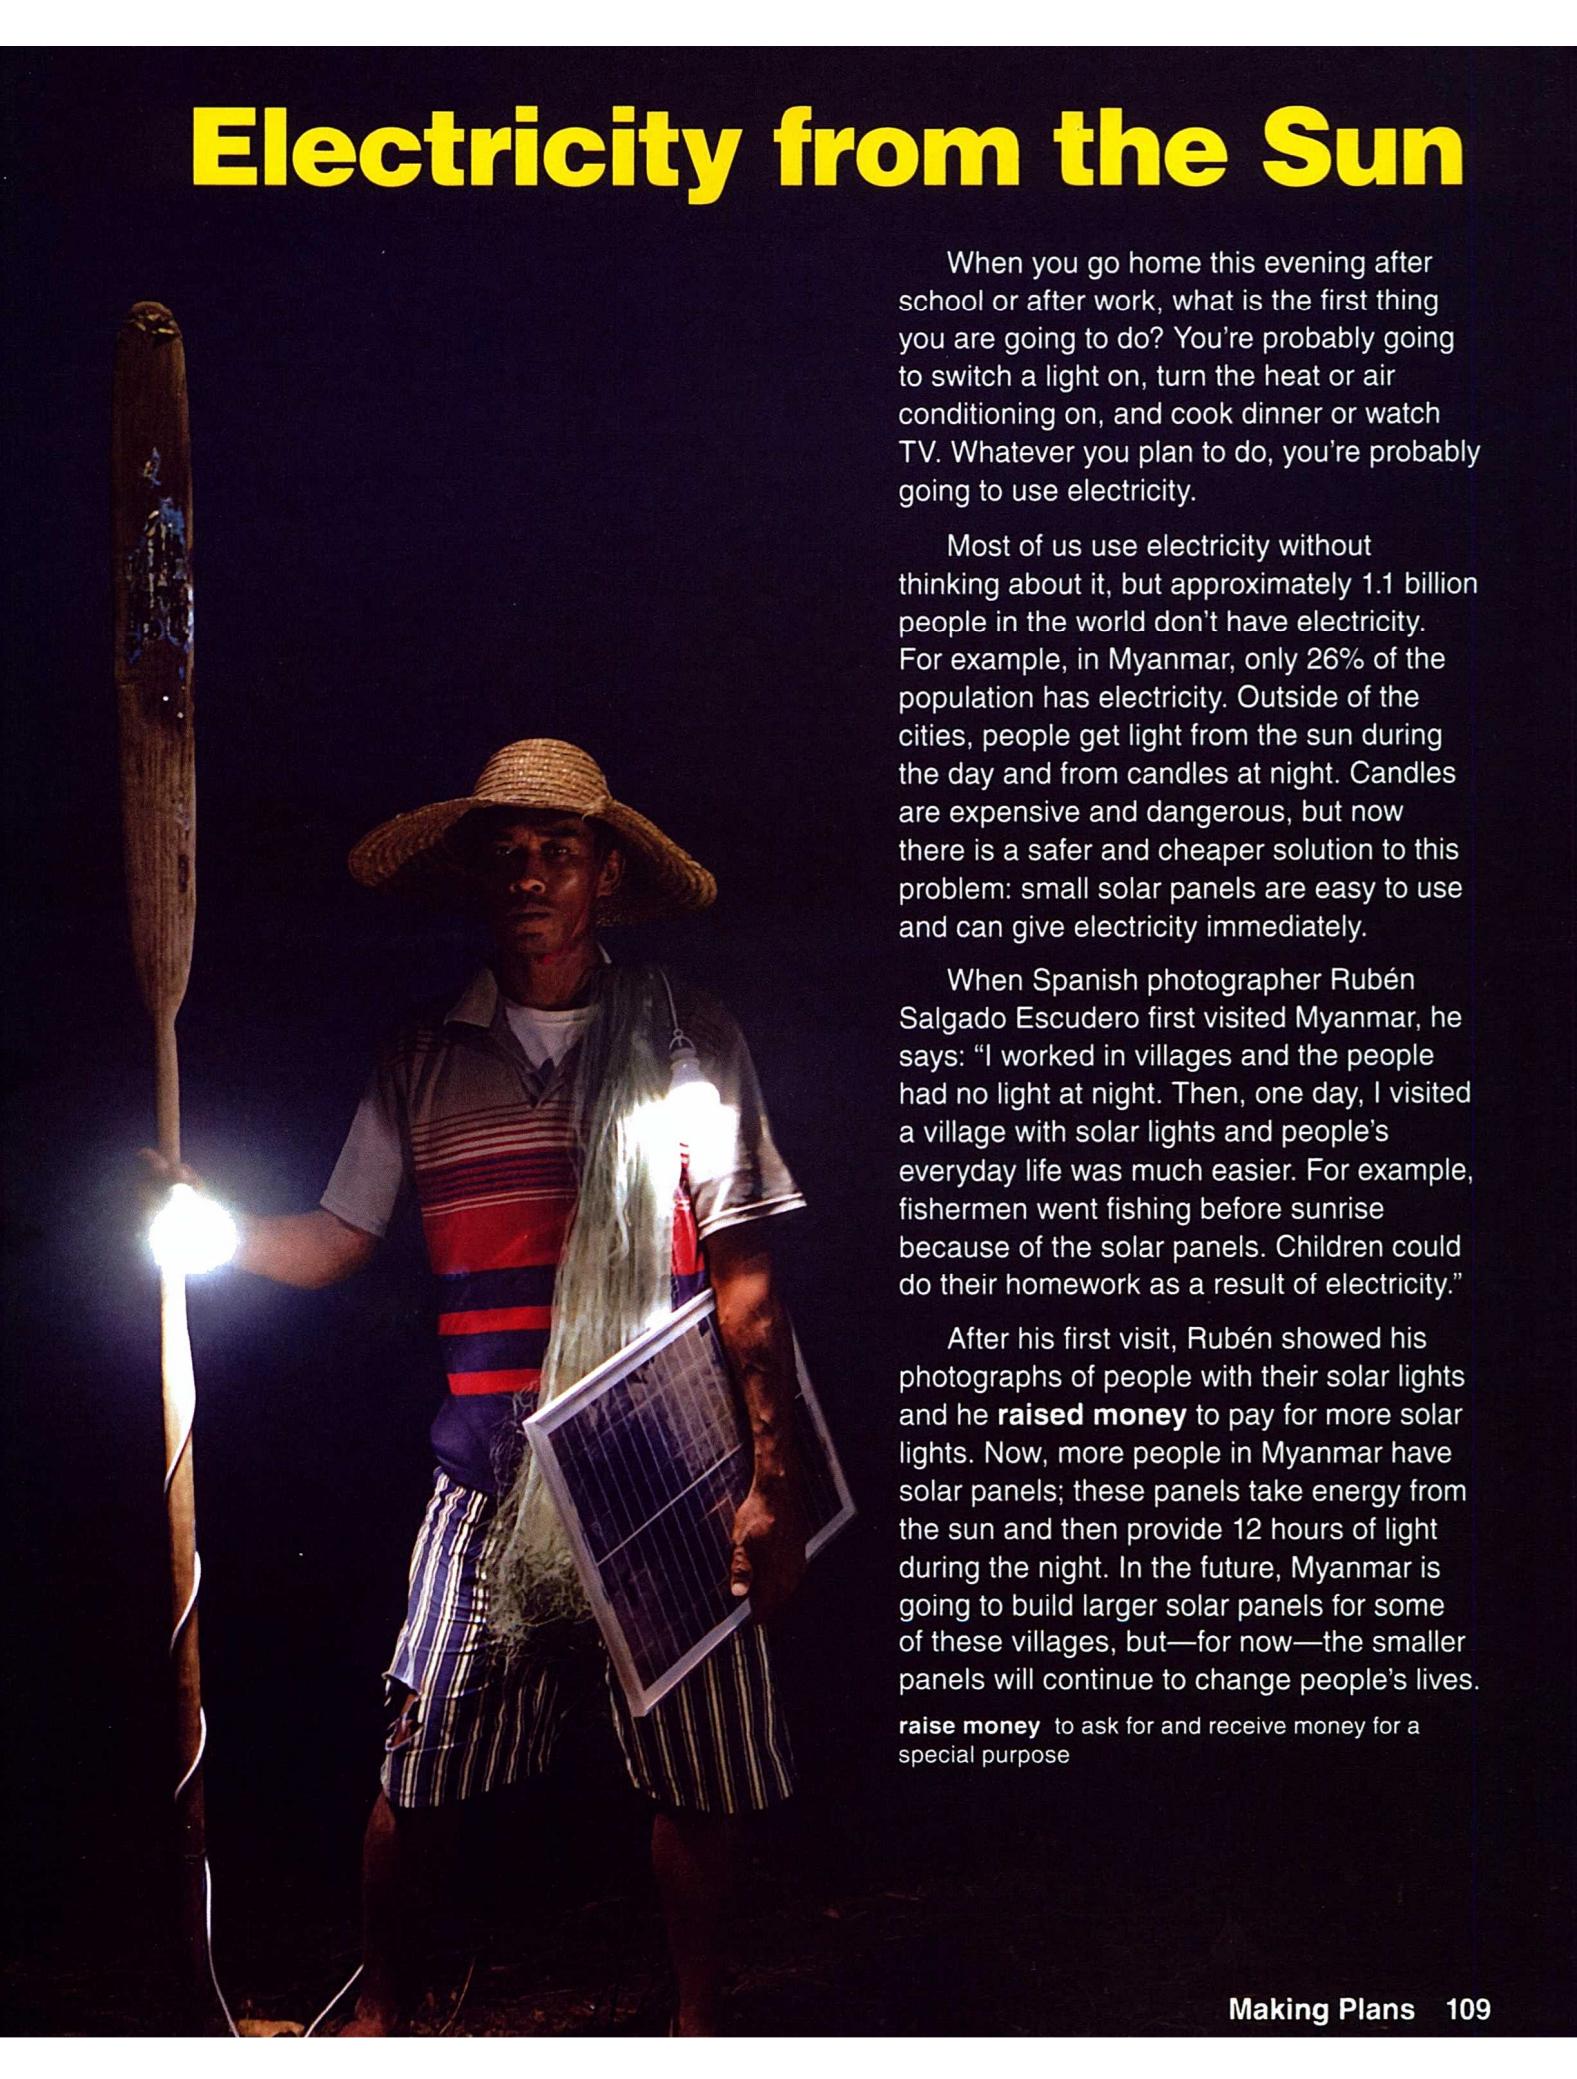

1. In groups, imagine you have these problems in your town or city. Make a list of solutions for each.
 - A lot of people don't recycle plastic bottles.
 - Everyone drives to work, so the traffic is bad.
 - Lots of young people don't have jobs.
 - There's nowhere for people to relax downtown.
2. Present your solutions to the class. Tell them what you are going to do about each problem and why.

We are going to build a new park.

Because of the new park, people will have a place to relax.

Electricity from the Sun

A photograph of a man in a straw hat and striped shirt holding a solar panel and a bright light source. He is standing in a dark environment, possibly a village at night. A vertical wooden pole is visible on the left.

When you go home this evening after school or after work, what is the first thing you are going to do? You're probably going to switch a light on, turn the heat or air conditioning on, and cook dinner or watch TV. Whatever you plan to do, you're probably going to use electricity.

Most of us use electricity without thinking about it, but approximately 1.1 billion people in the world don't have electricity. For example, in Myanmar, only 26% of the population has electricity. Outside of the cities, people get light from the sun during the day and from candles at night. Candles are expensive and dangerous, but now there is a safer and cheaper solution to this problem: small solar panels are easy to use and can give electricity immediately.

When Spanish photographer Rubén Salgado Escudero first visited Myanmar, he says: "I worked in villages and the people had no light at night. Then, one day, I visited a village with solar lights and people's everyday life was much easier. For example, fishermen went fishing before sunrise because of the solar panels. Children could do their homework as a result of electricity."

After his first visit, Rubén showed his photographs of people with their solar lights and he raised money to pay for more solar lights. Now, more people in Myanmar have solar panels; these panels take energy from the sun and then provide 12 hours of light during the night. In the future, Myanmar is going to build larger solar panels for some of these villages, but—for now—the smaller panels will continue to change people's lives.

Communication

A Take the personality test. Are you optimistic or pessimistic? What do the results say?

WORD FOCUS

An optimistic person thinks everything will be good in the future.

A pessimistic person thinks that things will be bad in the future.

1. I _____ have a healthy and happy life.
 - a. 'll certainly
 - b. 'll probably
 - c. probably won't
2. I _____ live to be 100 years old.
 - a. 'll definitely
 - b. 'll possibly
 - c. definitely won't
3. I _____ have my dream job someday!
 - a. 'll definitely
 - b. 'll possibly
 - c. definitely won't
4. I _____ speak perfect English one day!
 - a. 'll definitely
 - b. 'll probably
 - c. probably won't

Results:

Count 3 points for each a, 2 points for each b, and 1 point for each c.

10–12: You are optimistic. ☺

4–6: You are pessimistic. ☹

7–9: You are in the middle. ☺

REAL LANGUAGE

We often use adverbs of certainty with will.

I'll certainly / definitely / probably / possibly live to 100.

A: Will you have a happy life?

B: Yes, definitely!

B Change the four sentences in the quiz into questions. Write them in your notebook.

C In pairs, ask and answer the questions. Find out if your partner is optimistic or pessimistic.

Writing

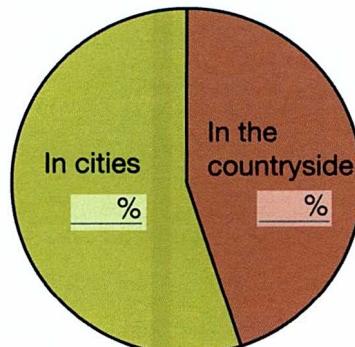

D Read about future trends and answer the questions. Then fill in the charts.

The population of the world is over 7 billion now, and this will definitely increase to 9 billion by 2050. Most of these people will live in cities. At the moment, 55% of people live in cities. In the future, this will probably go up to 70%, and the number of people in the countryside will decrease to 30%.

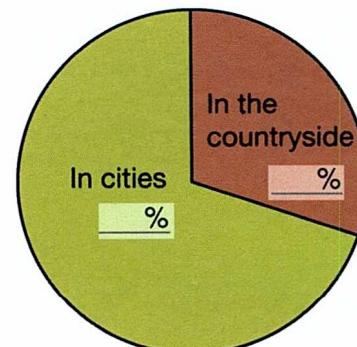

1. What will increase? What will decrease?
2. How certain is the writer about the predictions?

Where will we live?

THE PRESENT: 7 billion people

THE YEAR 2050: 9 billion people

WRITING SKILL: Describing Trends

↑ increase / go up

It will increase to 9 billion by 2050.

↓ decrease / go down

In the future, this will probably go up to 70%.

The number of people in the countryside will decrease to 30%.

E Look at the chart. Then complete the description of non-renewable energy in the future.

Global Non-renewable Energy

We probably (1) won't have any coal, gas, or oil (2) _____ 2090. At the moment, we have about 150 billion tons of oil, but we (3) _____ use all of it by 2052. By 2030, gas will (4) _____ about 200 billion. We still have a lot of coal in the world, but it will (5) _____, and by 2090 we (6) _____ won't have any coal left.

by decrease go down to probably will won't

GOAL CHECK

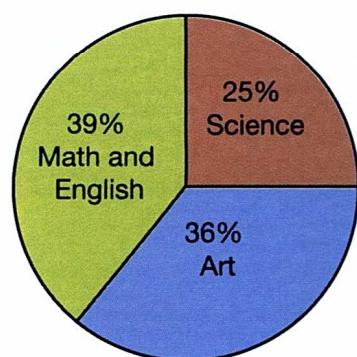

Describe Future Trends

Look at the information about what classes students take and write a description of the future trends. Use the paragraph in E as a model. Share your description in pairs. Then discuss if you think these trends are true for your city.

PRESENT: 250 students

2030: 400 students

7. Does he pay with cash or by card?

PRONUNCIATION: Stressed and Weak Syllables

In spoken English, some syllables are stressed and some are weak. Weak syllables usually do not sound as loud as stressed ones. The vowels are also usually longer in stressed syllables.

C  49 Listen and underline the stressed syllables in these sentences.

1. The skirt is cheaper than the shirt.
2. The blue tie is nicer than the black one.
3. Do you have a bigger size?
4. These ones are smaller than those.
5. This store is better.
6. The white shoes are more expensive than the brown ones.

Casual shoes for everyday wear or sports are often called sneakers.

D  49 Listen again and repeat the sentences in C.

Communication

E Who said the questions and statements below? Write S (salesperson) or C (customer).

1. Can I help you? S
2. I'd like to buy some blue shoes.
C
3. Do you have anything less formal?

4. Can I try them on?

5. What size are you?

6. Do you have a bigger size?

7. Are they better? _____
8. How much are they? _____
9. Do you have anything less expensive? _____
10. What about these brown ones? _____
11. I'll take the blue ones. _____

GOAL CHECK Buy Clothes

1. Look at the flowchart. You're going to make a new conversation. Decide:
 - what the salesperson should say for each situation in a blue diamond.
 - what the customer should say for each situation in a green square.

Follow the steps below and use phrases from E or your own ideas.

2. Practice the conversation using the flowchart. Take turns being the salesperson and the customer. Repeat the conversation with different items of clothing.

Hello. May I help you?

Yes, I'd like to buy a shirt.

Language Expansion: Clothing Materials

A Read the article and answer the questions.

1. What material do the women use to make clothes?
2. What type of clothing do people make with the material?
3. Is your country famous for a type of clothing? What is it made from?

This woman's dress is made from tree bark.

Traditional Material for Modern Clothes

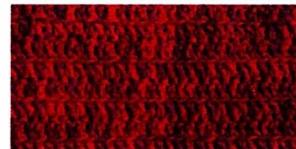

In the town of Masaka, Uganda, women make clothing materials from tree bark (the outer layer of a tree). Local people wear the clothes for special occasions and, now, modern clothing designers are starting to make fashionable clothes from the material.

B Label the clothing materials.

C Which of these clothes are usually made from the materials in B? You can say more than one material.

D MY WORLD Think about some of the clothes you are wearing today. What country are they made in? What material are they made from?

Grammar

Superlatives

Adjectives with one syllable Add -est .	cheap	Polyester is the cheapest material.
Adjectives that end in -y Change the -y to i and add -est .	heavy	Leather is the heaviest material.
Adjectives with three or more syllables Use most before the adjective.	comfortable	I think silk is the most comfortable material.
Irregular superlatives	good bad	Wool is the best material for winter clothes. But it's the worst in the summer because it's so hot!

E Complete the sentences. Use the superlative form of the adjective in parentheses.

1. The _____ (strong) belts are made from leather.
2. Which jacket is the _____ (warm)? The brown one, the red one, or the black one?
3. This store sells the _____ (traditional) suits for men.
4. These Italian shirts are made from the _____ (good) cotton in the world.

F Write a sentence in your notebook for each of the pairs of adjectives in the box.

Wool is usually more expensive than cotton, but silk is the most expensive material.

Conversation

G  50 Listen to two friends plan a weekend. What is Lindsay going to take?

Pablo: I don't know what to pack. What are you going to take?

Lindsay: Two T-shirts, some shorts, and my leather boots. Oh, and a pair of wool socks to wear when I'm hiking.

Pablo: Is that all?

Lindsay: I'm also going to bring a warm sweater for the evenings.

Pablo: Is that everything? I think it's going to rain on Saturday night.

Lindsay: Is it? Maybe I should take my raincoat as well.

Checking and Suggesting

Is that all?

H Practice the conversation in pairs. Switch roles and practice it again.

GOAL CHECK Decide What to Wear

1. In small groups, choose one way to spend a weekend together.
2. Discuss which items of clothing you are going to take with you. You can only take six items each. Talk about the clothes and say why you are taking them.

in a city with a great nightlife camping in the summer
by the ocean in the winter

Reading

A Look at the photo. Which country do you think the woman is from? What is she wearing?

B Read the article. Check your predictions in A and match the titles to paragraphs 1–3.

- a. The modern lives of the “cholitas” _____
- b. Women with a special style of clothing _____
- c. International “chola” fashion _____

C Read the article again. Answer these questions.

1. What was difficult for these women in the past? How are their lives different today?
2. Why did Delphine Blast photograph some of the women?
3. In which countries do people wear Eliana’s clothes?
4. Where did she show her clothes recently?

D Match the words in bold to the definitions.

1. You might see women wearing unique clothing. _____
2. This is the fashion of Aymaran women. _____
3. She loved the style of the “cholitas” in the street. _____
4. Many women ... want to wear these outfits. _____

- a. popular type of clothes
- b. sets of clothing (e.g., for a special occasion)
- c. very different from others
- d. a way of doing something (e.g., wearing certain clothes)

GOAL CHECK

1. Do you agree or disagree with each statement? Why? Write notes in your notebook.
 1. Bowler hats are popular in my country.
 2. People with stylish clothes are always rich.
 3. School uniforms are a good idea.
 4. Stylish shoes are better than comfortable ones.
 5. Men should always wear suits to work.
 6. Women spend more money on clothes than men.
 7. Fashion in the 20th century was better than it is now.
 8. Most people like shopping for clothes.
2. In groups, discuss the statements. Give your opinions with reasons for your answers.

Pride Through Fashion

- 1 If you visit the Andes regions of Bolivia, Peru, or Chile, you might see women wearing unique clothing: bowler hats on top of their long black hair, handmade shawls, colorful blouses and skirts, and lots of jewelry. This is the fashion of Aymaran women. The Aymara are an indigenous group of people from the Andes mountains and Aymaran women's clothing is very different from any others. Locally, these women are called "cholitas" with their "chola" fashion.
- 2 In the past, it was difficult for Aymaran women to get good jobs or an education. They often lived in poorer parts of the cities. But in modern Bolivia, this is changing. More and more Aymaran women go to school and college. They often get well-paid jobs, so they now have money to spend on more expensive clothes. When French photographer Delphine Blast visited La Paz, the capital of Bolivia, she loved the style of the cholitas in the street, so she photographed some of these fashionably-dressed women.
- 3 Eliana Paco Paredes is an Aymaran fashion designer, and she says that chola clothes are in fashion at the moment, both in Bolivia and in other countries. She has a store in La Paz and sells the clothes to local people, and also internationally. "We dress many people in Peru, Argentina, Chile, Brazil, and some products we make go to Spain and Italy." Recently, Eliana showed her clothes at New York's Fashion Week, where they were very popular. "We're getting people to learn about what this clothing is, ... and many women outside of Bolivia want to wear these outfits." The popularity of the clothes is very satisfying for Eliana because it's good for her business, but it's also important because being "chola" now comes with a lot of pride.

indigenous people who were in a country before anyone else pride a feeling of satisfaction from achievements, qualities, or possessions

Communication

A Discuss the questions as a class.

1. Do you normally buy clothes in a store or online?
2. Are there other items that you normally buy online? For example, books, technology, or food? Why?

B In pairs, write four sentences comparing shopping online with shopping in a store. Use these adjectives in the comparative form.

1. safe _____
2. quick _____
3. cheap _____
4. easy _____

C In pairs, discuss where these people should shop (online or in a store) and why. Then present your answers to the class and give your reasons.

	Online	In store
1. Jenny needs a new dress for her birthday party tonight.
2. Hamadi lives in a small village, a long way from the city.
3. Kenji isn't sure which smartphone to buy.
4. Albert is 85 years old and can't walk very far.
5. Rosa doesn't have a credit card.
6. Mario hates waiting in line.

Writing

D These ads are from an app where people can buy and sell clothes. Do you ever use apps like this?

Beautiful, gray and blue, wool sweater. It was made in Italy, and it's so soft and warm! I'm a size 8-10, so it would fit anyone around that size.

Price $15

Large, new swimsuit. I bought it last summer in Mexico, but I never wore it! It is made out of nylon.

Price $13

Comfortable, gray sneakers in great condition! They're perfect for everyday wear and they're very fashionable.

Price $11

E Read the ads. Check (✓) the information that is in each one.

REAL LANGUAGE

We often give our opinion using adjectives:

WRITING SKILLS: Describing Objects, Adjective Order, and Punctuation

Describing Objects

When you describe objects, such as clothes, you can use these phrases:

It's / They're made in (Italy). It's / They're perfect for (jogging). It's / They're so / very (comfortable).

Adjective Order

Opinion	Size	Age	Color	Nationality	Material	Object beautiful			black	Italian		sweater
	large	new			cotton	shorts
comfortable			blue and white			sneakers

Punctuation

Use commas between the adjectives: It's a beautiful, black, Italian sweater.

F Put the adjectives in the clothing ads in the correct order.

1. For sale! A (black / warm / wool) _____ hat. It's perfect for the winter.
2. I bought this (Italian / stylish) _____ suit 6 months ago and I wore it once!
3. I have two (leather / brown / new) _____ handbags. Buy 1 for $25 or 2 for $40!
4. (Indonesian / silk / high-quality) _____ ties in different colors. For every well-dressed man.
5. Buy now! Five pairs of (cotton / red and green) _____ children's socks.

GOAL CHECK Describe Clothes

1. Write three ads to sell items of clothing or other objects (e.g., a bicycle, phone, etc.).
2. Put your ads around the classroom and read what your classmates want to sell. Check that they have written their adjectives in the correct order.

Conversation

F 52 Listen to the conversation. What advice does Faisal give? How strong is it?

Alex: I feel so tired all the time. I don't have any energy. What should I do?

Faisal: Do you get eight hours of sleep every night?

Alex: Yes, I do. In fact, I usually sleep longer than that!

Faisal: Well maybe instead of watching TV, you could get more exercise.

Alex: Like what?

Faisal: You could work out at the gym.

Alex: But I don't have time. I'm too busy.

Faisal: Really? How do you get to work in the morning?

Alex: I drive my car of course.

Faisal: Why?! It's only a mile to your office. You should ride a bike or walk.

Interviewer: Hello, I'm asking questions for a survey. We're studying people's happiness. Can I ask you a few questions?

Mr. Lopez: Sure, go ahead.

Interviewer: OK, question one. How many hours do you work a week?

Mr. Lopez: I think I work around 80 hours a week.

Interviewer: 80 hours! That's a lot!

Mr. Lopez: I know. I'm really overworked.

Interviewer: Question 2 is about exercise. How much exercise do you get a week?

Mr. Lopez: Not much because of my job. I go to the gym about once a month.

Approximation

When you don't know the exact answer, use approximation language.

About once a month.

Around 80 hours a week.

Almost twenty cigarettes a day.

GOAL CHECK Ask about Happiness

1. Write three more questions for the happiness survey in H.
2. Interview classmates with your questions and the ones in the conversation.
3. In small groups, discuss your results. How happy is your class?

8. Does the writer think we will take the advice of medical experts?	<input type="radio"/> Yes	No	Doesn't say

D Complete this summary using words from the article.

Sleep is good for physical and (1) mental health. It helps stop (2) _____ and keeps us healthy. We also study and work (3) _____ when we sleep for (4) _____ hours. But in the twenty-first century, we aren't getting enough sleep. One reason is that we stay up (5) _____ or (6) _____ all night. Another reason is that (7) _____ light from screens keeps us awake. As a result, medical experts advise us to stop looking at screens (8) _____ hour before bed.

✓ GOAL CHECK

In groups, prepare a presentation called "Why sleep is good for you."

1. List all the reasons why sleep is good for you. Use ideas from the article and add two of your own ideas.
2. Join another group and take turns giving your presentation. Did you give similar reasons? What was different?

This man is sleeping on a subway platform in Japan. The Japanese term inemuri means "sleeping while present." As people work more and get less sleep at night, this is more common.

The Need for Sleep

For thousands of years, humans have asked the question: "Why do we sleep?" and modern scientists are still trying to find the answer. But one thing we do know is that it's good for our physical and mental health. Physically, sleep helps prevent sickness and keeps our body healthy. Mentally, we study and work better when we sleep for about eight hours the previous night. Sleep might also stop dementia when you are older.

In this century, lack of sleep is becoming a big problem. The average American sleeps less than seven hours a night—that's two hours less than a century ago. Our modern 24-hour-day lifestyle means that more and more of us are working at different times of the day—and night. We often stay up late into the night, and some of us even work all night and sleep during the day. This is a problem because our body's natural clock is connected with the movement of the sun. In other words, if we don't sleep at night for long periods, it can be bad for our health.

But perhaps the biggest problem for sleep comes from electric lights and screens. Modern cities use bright LED lights through the night, which changes the way we sleep. In addition, the screens of our computers, tablets, and smartphones all send out blue light. The bluer and brighter the light, the more difficult it is to get tired and go to sleep. As a result, some medical experts now suggest that we shouldn't watch more than two hours of television per day, and that we should stop looking at screens (including phones) one hour before we go to bed. But since light and screens are so important in our lives, how many of us will take this advice?

dementia a medical problem with the brain that changes memory and personality (usually in older people)

B Read about Valorie Salimpoor and answer the questions.

Valorie Salimpoor is a neuroscientist. One day, Valorie was in her car and felt unhappy. Then, suddenly there was some classical music on the radio. Immediately, she felt much better and she wanted to understand why. Valorie started to study what happens to the brain when people listen to different types of music. With her evidence, she thinks music can be good for our mental health because "it's really an exercise for your whole brain."

1. How did she feel one day? What happened?
2. From her research, what does she think about music?

C MY WORLD Do you agree with Valorie's ideas about music? What types of music make you feel better?

D In pairs, discuss which of the activities in the box to the left are good for your mental health. Give reasons. Do you think any of these activities are bad for your mental health? Compare your ideas in small groups.

Studies show that dance is good for your mental and physical health.

Writing

E Read the paragraph about a student's hobbies and answer the questions.

I love dancing and, in my opinion, it's good for your physical and mental health. First, dancing keeps you in shape because you are always moving around. In addition, it's social because you meet new people and have fun. Also, when you learn new dances, you have to memorize them and use your brain. In conclusion, I think everyone should go dancing to get healthy.

1. What is her hobby?
2. Why is it good for her physical health?
3. Why is it good for her mental health?

F Read the information about paragraph structure. Then find the topic sentence, supporting sentences, and concluding sentence in the paragraph in E.

WRITING SKILL: Paragraph Structure

Topic sentence → The first sentence is the main subject of your paragraph.
Useful phrases: I like... because..., I think..., In my opinion, ...

Supporting sentences → Add two or three sentences to give more information and reasons for your opinion. They should support your topic.
Useful phrases: Firstly, / First, / First of all, Secondly, / Second, Also, In addition, Concluding sentence → Not all paragraphs have this sentence, but sometimes it's useful because it summarizes the main ideas.

Useful phrases: To conclude, In conclusion, / To sum up, I think...

G Make a new paragraph. Put these sentences in the correct order from 1 to 5.

1. In addition, when you grow your own vegetables, you also eat healthy food.
2. Third, I spend time outside with nature, so it's stress-free and very relaxing.
3. In my free time, I like gardening because it's good for my physical and mental health.
4. First, you have to move around a lot, so it's good exercise.
5. To sum up, I think gardening is great for my body and my brain.

GOAL CHECK Explain Healthy Activities

1. Plan a paragraph about a healthy hobby or activity. Make notes and list the different reasons why it is good for your health.
2. Write your paragraph using your notes.
3. Exchange your paragraph with a partner. Does your partner's paragraph have:
 - a topic sentence?
 - supporting sentences?
 - a concluding sentence?

Grammar

Present Perfect

Statement	I have finished my homework. / He has finished his homework.
Negative	I haven't finished . / She hasn't finished .
Yes / No Questions	Have you finished your homework? / Has he finished ?
Short Answers	Yes, I have . / Yes, he has . No, I haven't . / No, she hasn't .
Wh- Questions	What have you done today?

Form the present perfect with has / have + past participle. We can use the present perfect (like the simple past) to talk about completed actions in the past, but without saying when they happened.

Past Participles

Regular verbs end in -ed: walk → has / have walked, clean → has / have cleaned

Irregular verbs have irregular past participles: cut → has / have cut, buy → has / have bought

D  59 Listen to a conversation between a mother and daughter. Check (✓) the things they have done. Put an X for the things they haven't done.

1. walk the dog
2. vacuum the floor
3. finish homework
4. buy some groceries
5. cook dinner

E  59 Complete the conversation with the present perfect. Then listen and check your answers.

Mom: Hi, Lyn. I'm home.

Lyn: Hi, Mom.

Mom: (1) _____ you _____ (walk) the dog?

Lyn: Yes, I (2) _____. And I (3) _____ (vacuum) the floor.

Mom: Wonderful! (4) _____ you _____ (finish) your homework?

Lyn: No, I (5) _____. I'm going to do it now.

Mom: OK. Are you hungry? I bought some groceries, so I'm going to cook dinner.

Lyn: Great!

Have you walked the dog?

F Practice the conversation in pairs. Switch roles and practice it again.

G Look at the chores in A. Pick four chores and put a check (✓) next to them. In pairs, take turns asking and answering questions about the chores. Say you've done the ones with checks.

Yes, I have.

GOAL CHECK Talk about Responsibilities

What have you done this week?

1. Make a list of chores or activities you have done this week.
2. In pairs, talk about the chores and activities you have done this week.

I've finished all my homework.

C In groups, discuss the achievements in B. Rank them from 1 to 6 and give reasons. (1 = most difficult to achieve, 6 = easiest to achieve.)

Grammar

D Compare the sentences (a and b) about the past. Then answer the questions.

- a. He has worked around the world.
- b. As a child, he wanted to be a National Geographic photographer.

1. Which sentence doesn't say when the action happened?
2. Which sentence describes an action at a specific time?
3. What verb tense is used in each sentence?

Present Perfect vs. Simple Past

Present Perfect	Simple Past
We often ask present perfect questions to ask about life experiences. Have you ever been to another country? For negative answers, you can use never . No, I've never been to another country.	Use time expressions like yesterday , last week , and in 2010 with the simple past. They went to France last year . Did you go to work yesterday ?

E Underline the present perfect verbs and circle the simple past verbs in A.

F Underline the correct words to complete the conversations.

A: Have you ever / Did you ever been to Europe?

B: No, I haven't / didn't, but I've been to Asia.

A: When did you go there?

B: I 've gone / went there two years ago.

A: Did you study / Have you studied any languages there?

B: Yes, two. Korean and Chinese.

A: Wow! I 've never studied / never studied Chinese. Was it hard to learn?

B: Yes, it was, but I 've lived / lived in Beijing for a year, so that helped.

Conversation

G  63 Listen to the conversation. Who started his own business?

Alfredo: Hi, Pete. I haven't seen you for a long time. What's new?

Pete: Lots! I quit my job and I've started my own computer business.

Alfredo: Congratulations! When did you open the business?

Pete: Eight months ago. It's going really well. What about you?

Alfredo: I'm still working at the bank, but I've gone back to school.

Pete: Great, when did you do that?

Alfredo: Last month.

SPEAKING STRATEGY

We often ask questions about recent activities using the present perfect, then ask for more information using the simple past.

A: What have you been doing lately?

B: I've started my own business.

A: Oh! When did you open it?

H Practice the conversation in pairs. Switch roles and practice it again.

I Change the underlined words and practice the conversation again.

GOAL CHECK Talk about Personal Achievements

1. Prepare five Have you ever...? questions about your partner's achievements. You can use achievements from B or your own ideas.
2. Interview your partner. If they answer "Yes," ask for more information.

Have you ever run a marathon?

Yes, I have.

When did you run it?

Reading

B Look at the photo and the title of the article. Write five words you expect to read in the article. Compare in pairs.

C Read the article and answer the questions.

1. Check your words in B. Are they in the article?
2. Was Eliud successful?

D Read the ways to plan for success as a marathon runner.

Which six are in the article about Eliud?

1. Prepare for about two years.
2. Work with a team of experts.
3. Get up early every morning.
4. Use technology to study your running.
5. Plan the food you eat.
6. Ask other people for information and advice.
7. Take regular breaks.
8. Run with other athletes.

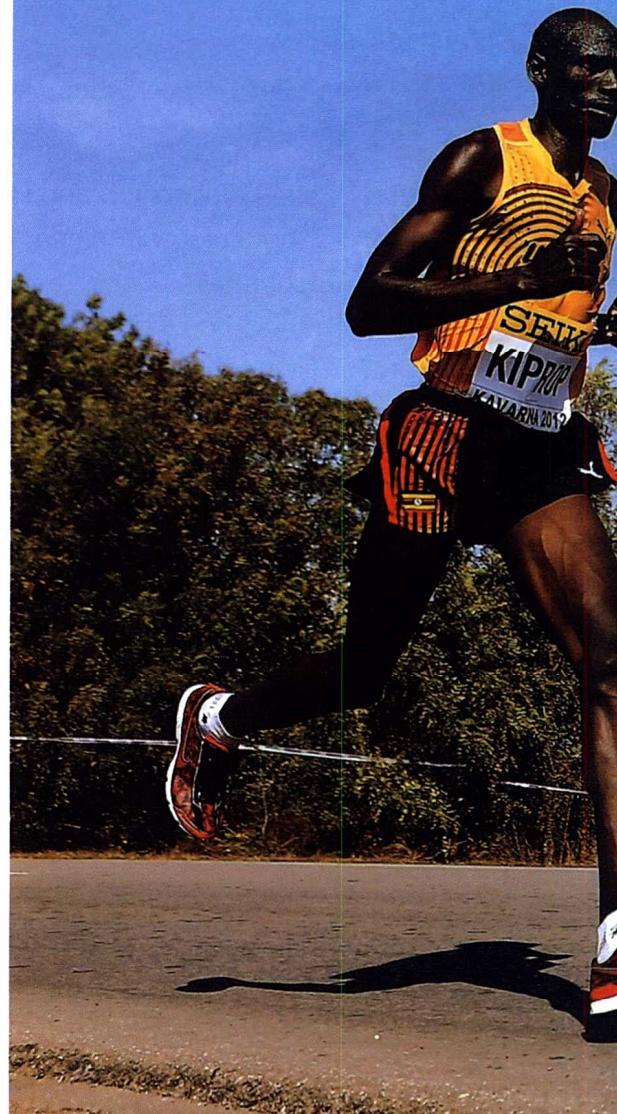

E Words 1–4 are from the article. Match each to a similar word.

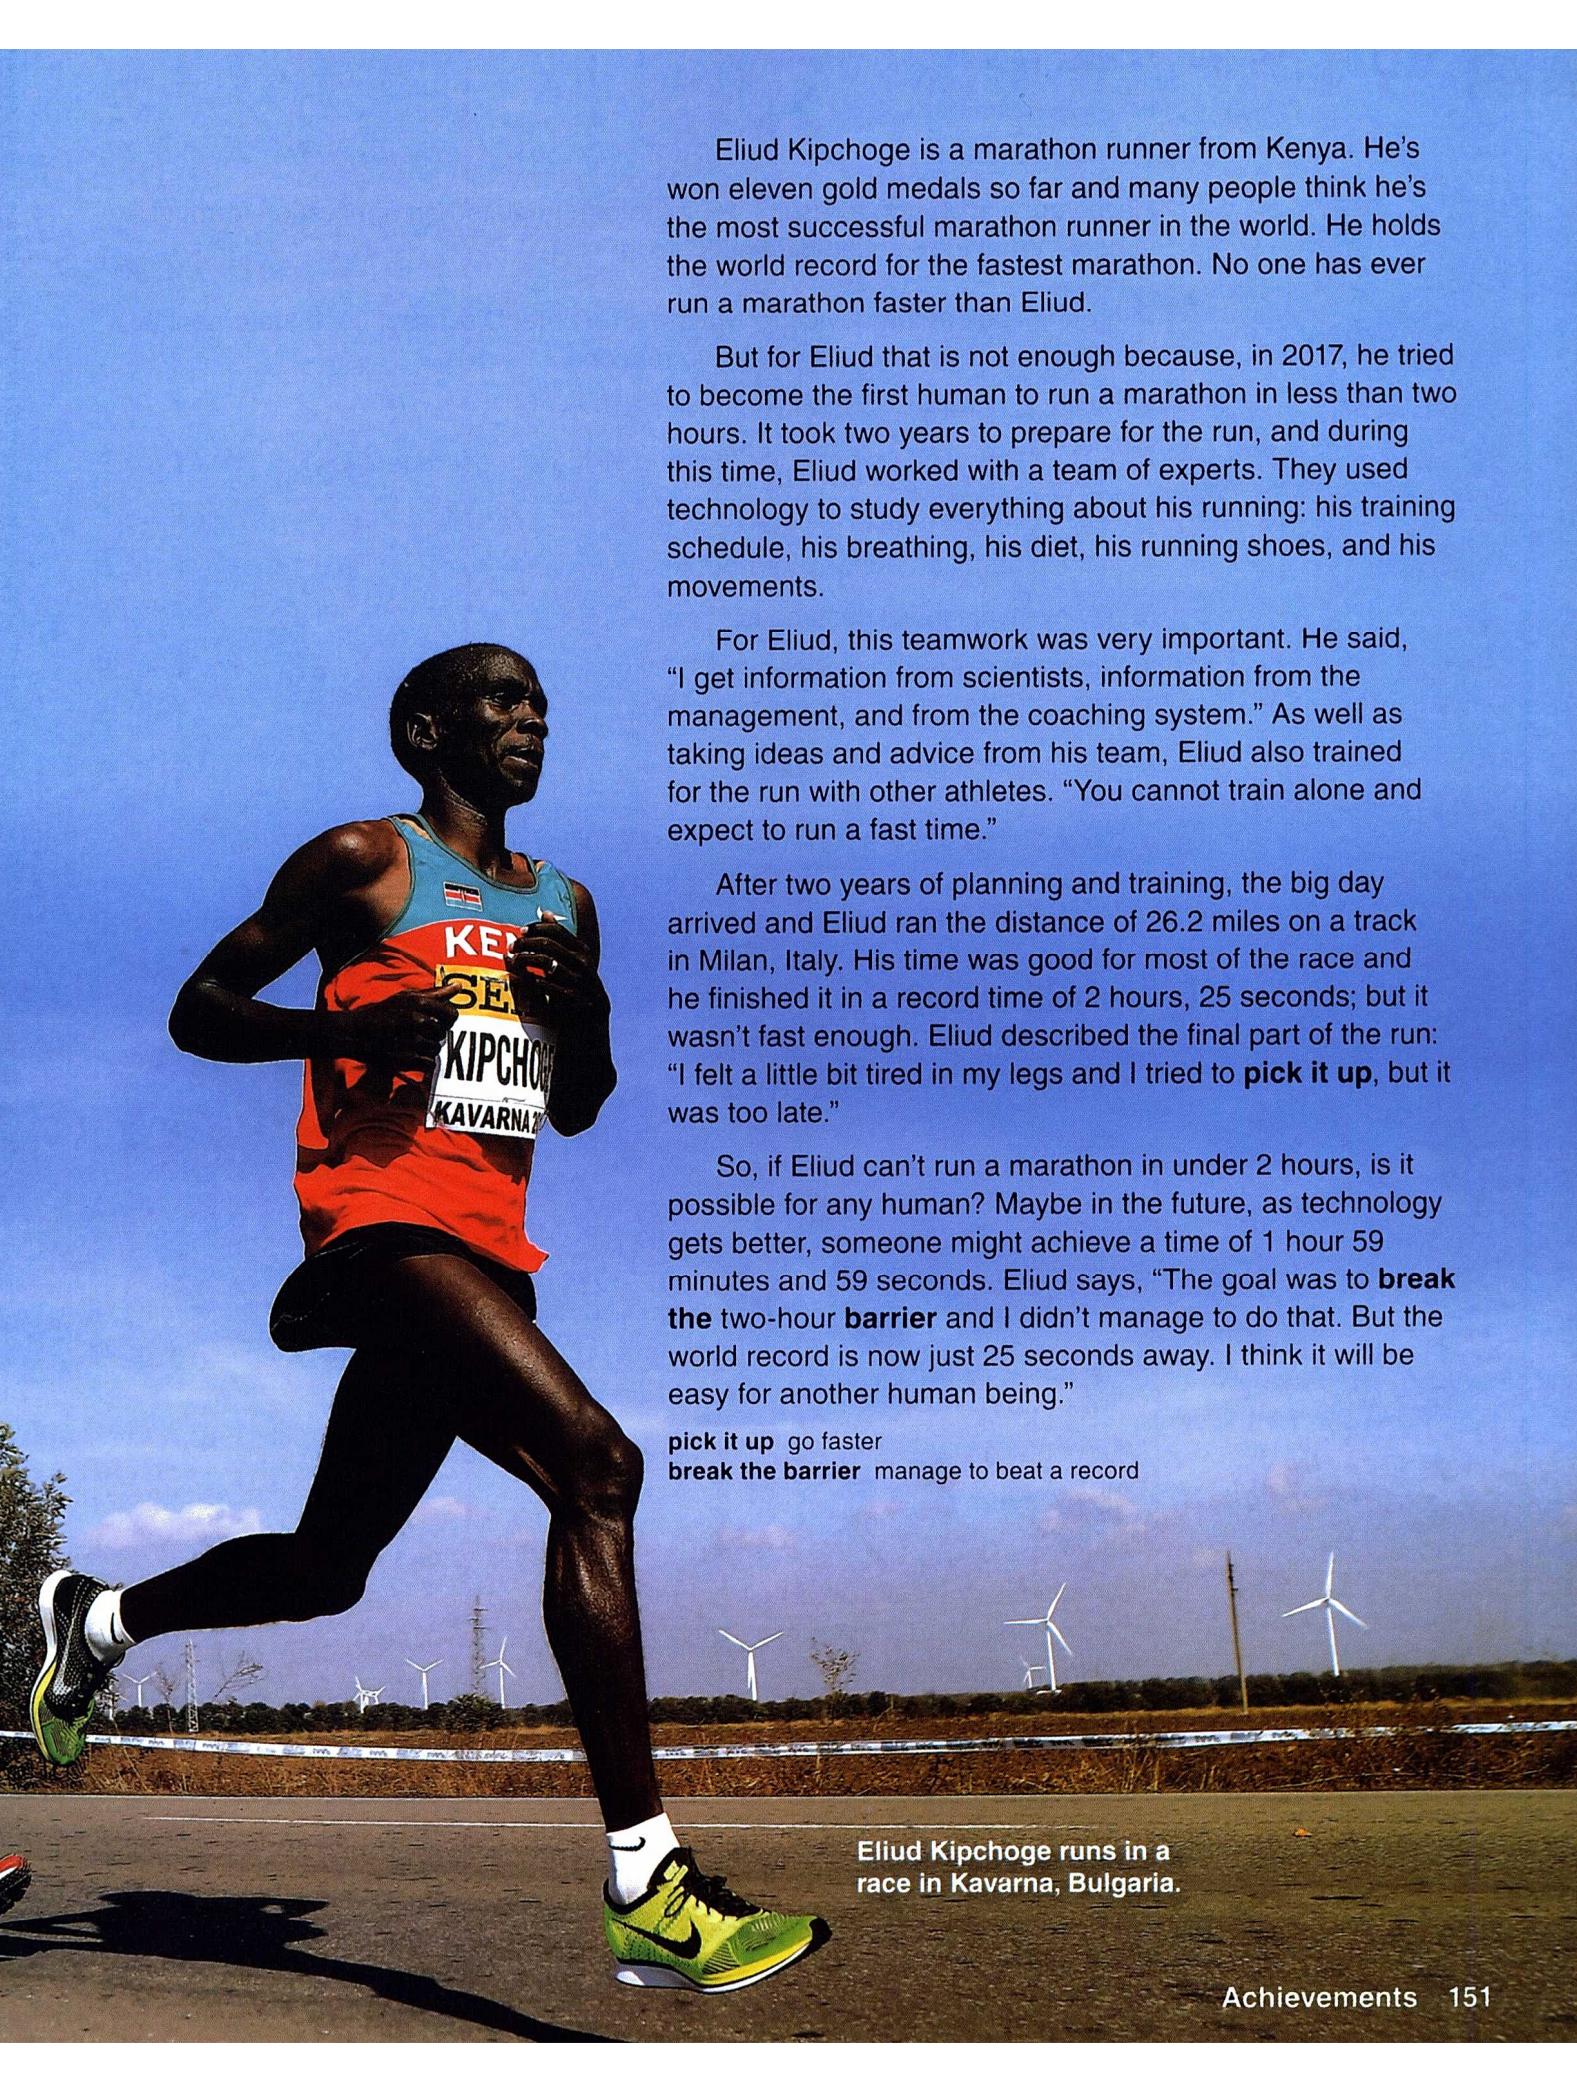

1. train _____	a. timetable
2. schedule _____	b. achieve
3. system _____	c. plan
4. manage to do _____	d. practice

✓ GOAL CHECK

1. Write five sentences about how you plan for success in learning English. Use the ideas and words in D and E.
2. Share your ideas in groups. Work as a team and learn new ideas from each other.

BEING THE FIRST IN LESS THAN TWO HOURS

Eliud Kipchoge is a marathon runner from Kenya. He's won eleven gold medals so far and many people think he's the most successful marathon runner in the world. He holds the world record for the fastest marathon. No one has ever run a marathon faster than Eliud.

But for Eliud that is not enough because, in 2017, he tried to become the first human to run a marathon in less than two hours. It took two years to prepare for the run, and during this time, Eliud worked with a team of experts. They used technology to study everything about his running: his training schedule, his breathing, his diet, his running shoes, and his movements.

For Eliud, this teamwork was very important. He said, "I get information from scientists, information from the management, and from the coaching system." As well as taking ideas and advice from his team, Eliud also trained for the run with other athletes. "You cannot train alone and expect to run a fast time."

After two years of planning and training, the big day arrived and Eliud ran the distance of 26.2 miles on a track in Milan, Italy. His time was good for most of the race and he finished it in a record time of 2 hours, 25 seconds; but it wasn't fast enough. Eliud described the final part of the run: "I felt a little bit tired in my legs and I tried to pick it up, but it was too late."

So, if Eliud can't run a marathon in under 2 hours, is it possible for any human? Maybe in the future, as technology gets better, someone might achieve a time of 1 hour 59 minutes and 59 seconds. Eliud says, "The goal was to break the two-hour barrier and I didn't manage to do that. But the world record is now just 25 seconds away. I think it will be easy for another human being."

VIDEO JOURNAL

WASFIA'S JOURNEY

A Read the article.

1. Who is Wasfia? Where is she from?
2. What has she achieved? When did she achieve it?

Wasfia becomes the first Bangladeshi to climb the seven highest mountains

November 26, 2015

At 10:19 am on November 18, Wasfia Nazreen reached the summit of Carstensz Pyramid, the highest mountain in Oceania / Australasia. After the climb she said, "Carstensz Pyramid was the toughest and remotest mountain I have ever climbed in my life."

Wasfia has now achieved her final goal—to become the first Bangladeshi to climb the highest mountains on seven continents: Carstensz, as well as Mount Elbrus in Europe, Mount Aconcagua in South America, Denali in North America, Mount Vinson Massif in Antarctica, Mount Kilimanjaro in Africa, and Mount Everest in Asia.

B Watch the video and number the events in the order that you see them.

- 1 Wasfia is climbing up Mount Kilimanjaro.
- _____ She's playing with two girls.
- _____ She's holding the flag of Bangladesh at the top of a mountain.
- _____ She's meditating in a temple.
- _____ She's walking up steps.
- _____ She's inside a tent.
- _____ She's looking at photos of women from Bangladesh.
- _____ She's talking to a class of girls.
- _____ She's flying in a helicopter.
- _____ She's in an airport.

C Watch again and choose the correct answer.

1. In the past, when she said she's from Bangladesh, what did people say?
 - a. "I don't know where that is."
 - b. "You get floods."
 - c. a and b
2. When she decided to climb the seven mountains, who believed she could do it?
 - a. No one
 - b. Someone
 - c. Everyone
3. What is the third part of her training?
 - a. Cardio training
 - b. High altitude training
 - c. Meditation
4. Her climbing teacher was Ngima Grimen. How did he die?
 - a. In a climbing accident
 - b. In a motorbike accident
 - c. In a car accident
5. What does the first girl want to be when she grows up?
 - a. A teacher
 - b. A climber
 - c. A doctor

D Discuss these questions in pairs. Then tell the class your opinions.

1. How do you think Wasfia felt about people's ideas about Bangladesh?
2. Why do you think no one believed Wasfia could climb the seven mountains?
3. How can Wasfia's achievement change people's opinion of her and of other women?

E In groups, think of a person who has achieved something important. (The person could be famous or someone you know.) Plan a video documentary about this person. Answer the questions to the right. Then share your ideas with the class.

- Who is the person?
- What is their achievement?
- Who will you interview in the documentary?
- Where will you film the documentary?
- Will you have narration? What will you say?

UNIT 12 GOALS

- A. Give Advice about Money
- B. Choose What to Use
- C. Make Decisions about Money
- D. Plan How to Raise Money
- E. Compare and Contrast Options

Vocabulary

A Read the article from a student magazine. What advice does the article give? Do you think it's good advice?

STUDENT LIFE

Managing your Money

Congratulations! You just received your first student loan. So now it's decision time. How are you going to spend it? On a new phone? Or some cool sneakers? Well, don't! Before you spend a penny of it, make a budget. Compare the amount of your loan with your expenses (rent, transportation, food).

If you don't have enough money for the year, maybe you can borrow more. But if you borrow money from a bank, you pay interest, so—if possible—ask a friend or family member to lend you the money. Or, a lot of students have part-time jobs to earn some money. And if you are a student, you don't pay much in taxes. With the income from the job, try to save some of your extra money for later in the year.

WORD FOCUS

lend to ≠ borrow from

Use these verbs to talk about loans:

The bank lends money to you. = the bank gives you money

You borrow money from the bank. = you receive money from the bank

B Write the words in blue next to the definitions.

1. money that students borrow to help pay for college: student loan
2. money you receive from work: _____
3. money you spend: _____
4. receive money that you have to return in the future: _____
5. give someone money that they have to return in the future: _____
6. a spending plan: _____
7. put money in the bank for the future: _____
8. the percentage (%) you pay when you borrow money: _____
9. money you give to the government: _____
10. get money from working: _____

C MY WORLD In pairs, follow the steps below.

1. Make a list of all your monthly expenses (e.g., bus pass, clothes, food, etc.). Write them in the table.
2. Compare your answers with another pair.

Grammar

Real Conditionals: The Zero Conditional

If Clause (Simple Present)	Main Clause (Simple Present or Imperative)
If you borrow money from a bank,	you pay interest.
If you receive a student loan,	don't spend it all on new clothes!

We use the zero conditional to:

- talk about facts or things that are usually true.
- give instructions or advice.

D Match the clauses. Does each main clause talk about facts or give instructions?

1. If you get a job, _____
a. you pay interest.
2. If you use a credit card, _____
b. remember to pay them back!
3. If you bring your lunch, _____
c. you earn money.
4. If you borrow money from friends, _____
d. it's much cheaper.
5. If you put your card in an ATM, _____
e. you get money.

E In pairs, complete the sentences in your own words. Use the simple present or an imperative form. Then compare your sentences with another pair.

1. If you save 20% of your income every month, _____.
2. If you spend more money than you earn, _____.
3. If you borrow money from your parents, _____.

Conversation

F 65 Listen to the conversation. What does the tourist want? What instructions and advice does Jim give?

Tourist: Excuse me. Can you help me?

Jim: Sure, what's the problem?

Tourist: I'm from Japan and I don't have any dollars. I only have Japanese yen.

Jim: If you want to change money, go to the currency exchange.

Tourist: Where is it?

Jim: If you go down this street, there's a currency exchange on the right.

Tourist: Oh, thank you very much.

G Practice the conversation in pairs. Switch roles and practice it again.

H Make new conversations between the tourist and Jim. The tourist wants to:

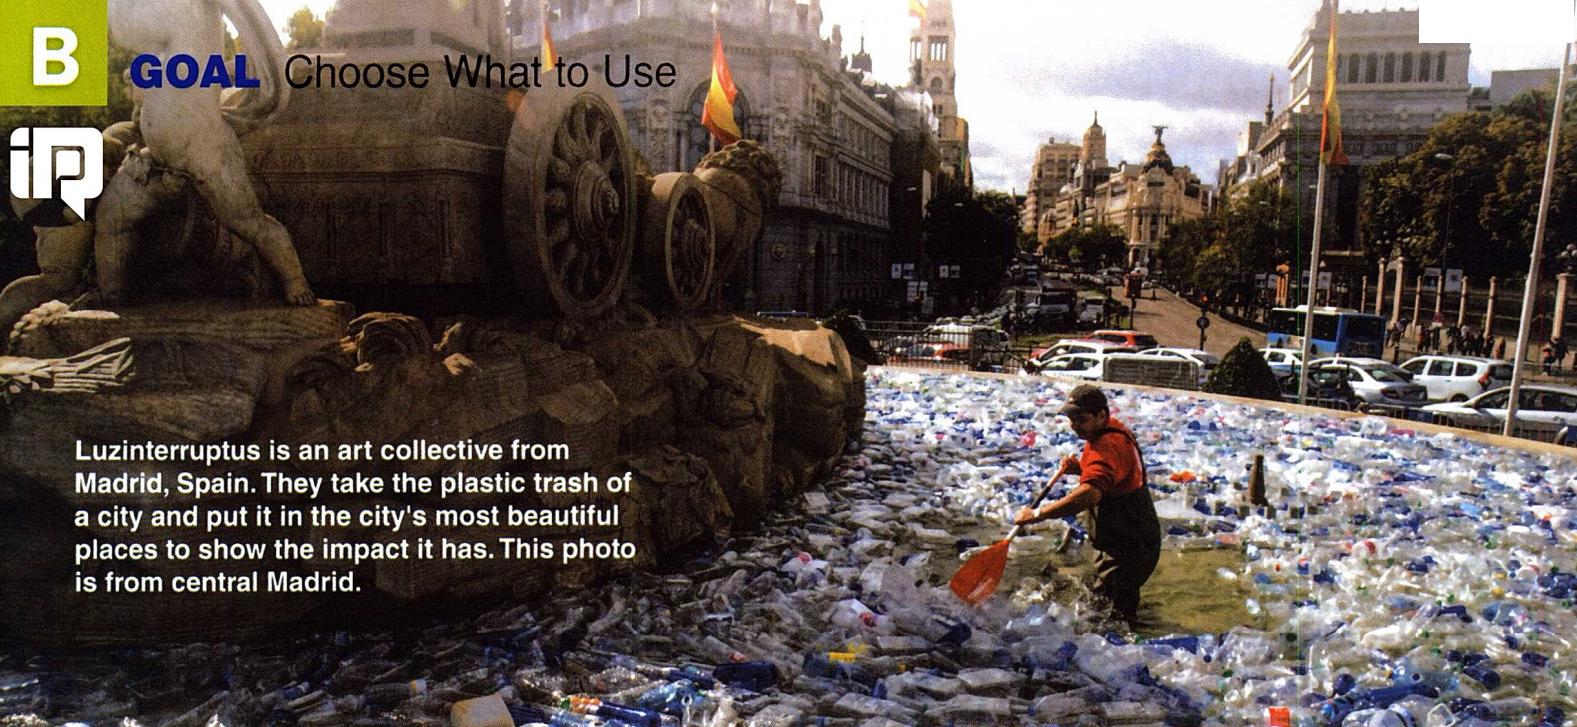

- get money from an ATM.
- find a bank.
- buy souvenirs.

GOAL CHECK Give Advice about Money

1. Write down three things you want to do with money.
2. In pairs, take turns saying what you want to do and giving advice.

If you want to buy a car, borrow the money from your parents.

- e. reuseable water bottles

C 66 Listen and circle T for true or F for false.

1. Humans produce about 450 million tons of plastic a year. T F
2. A lot of plastic is in oceans and on beaches. T F
3. Everyone is trying to stop using single-use plastic. T F
4. Marie tried to travel without using single-use plastic. T F
5. She took two water bottles because she might lose one of them. T F
6. She took containers so she didn't have to buy fast food in plastic. T F
7. You need to tell the waiter that you don't want a plastic straw. T F
8. Not using single-use plastic is expensive. T F

D 67 Listen and write the missing verbs in these zero conditional sentences.

1. If we _____ using single-use plastic, we _____ the problem.
2. If you _____ two water bottles, it _____ enough water for a long trip.
3. If you _____ food containers, you can _____ snacks in them.
4. If you _____ to a cafe and _____ a drink, _____ the waiter that you don't need a plastic straw.

PRONUNCIATION: Conditional Intonation

In conditional sentences, the intonation usually rises toward the end of the if clause and falls toward the end of the main clause.

E 67 Listen to the sentences in D again. Draw arrows to show rise and fall.

If we stop using single-use plastic, we solve the problem.

GOAL CHECK Choose What to Use

1. In groups, think about the last 24 hours. Fill in the first column of the chart. Write the plastic items you used.
2. Which items were single-use plastic? Which were reuseable? Check (✓) the correct column.
3. If you used single-use plastic items, which can you avoid using? How?
4. Join another group and tell them about your choices.

Plastic Item	Single-Use?	Reusable?

If I need a bag, I don't need a plastic one. I can use a paper bag.

If I pack a lunch, I can use a reusable food container.

C GOAL Make Decisions about Money

Language Expansion: Money Verbs

A Which countries use these currencies? Some have more than one answer.

Dollar Euro Peso Pound Yuan

B Read the article. Underline five verbs we use with the word money.

Money Travel Tips

If you travel abroad, you'll need different currencies. There are yen in Japan, dong in Vietnam, sols in Peru, reals in Brazil, and dollars in many countries. It can be confusing! Here are some tips:

- Plan how much money you will spend each day. Then, calculate the amount in the local currency.
- If you change your money before you leave, it'll be cheaper than at airports or hotels.
- When you arrive, carry your money in different places: in your wallet, your bag, and your pocket. Then, if someone steals any, you won't lose all of it.

C In pairs, write the money verbs from the box in the correct column. Then compare your answers with another pair. Do you agree?

borrow	carry
change	earn
find	lend lose	make save	spend
steal	win

Positive	Neutral	Negative
save

D Choose five money verbs and write a sentence with each one. Then read your sentences in pairs, but don't say the verb. Can your partner guess the missing verb?

My grandmother plays the lottery every week, but she never ... any money.

Is the verb "wins"?

Grammar

Real Conditionals: The First Conditional

If Clause (Simple Present)

If you take a trip to the US,

If you change your money before you leave,

Use the first conditional to talk about a future possible action (if clause) and the result (main clause).

Main Clause (Will for Future)

you will need dollars.

it will be cheaper.

E Put the words in the correct order to make a first conditional sentence.

1. a bigger car / some money / we borrow / If / we will be able to buy

If we borrow some money, we will be able to buy a bigger car.

2. a new job / more money / I will have / I get / If

3. on vacation / we spend too much / If / to go / we won't be able

4. you won't have to / I / use your credit card / If / lend you $100

Conversation

F  68 Listen to the conversation and underline the first conditional sentences.

Then practice the conversation with a partner.

Gaby: OK. What's the best way to travel from Los Angeles to San Diego?

Sharon: Well, if we take the bus, it'll be cheaper.

Gaby: But sometimes I get sick on buses. What if we go by train?

Sharon: It's quicker, but only by one hour.

Gaby: Or we could fly.

Sharon: But if we take the plane, we won't have any money left!

Talking about Choices

If we take ..., it'll be ...

What if we ...?

Will it be ...?

If we ..., we won't ...

Or we could ...

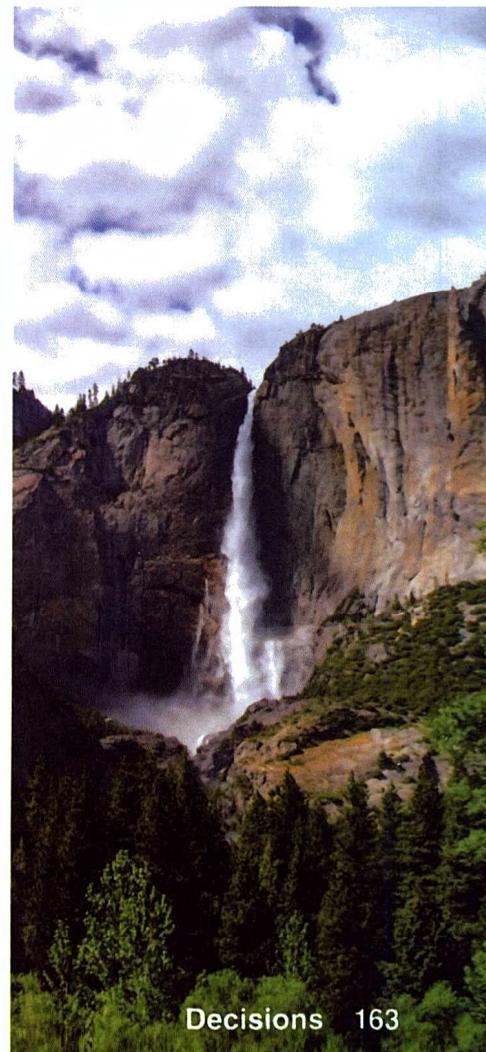

GOAL CHECK Make Decisions about Money

1. In pairs, plan a six-day trip to California. You each have $300 to spend on transportation. Leave Los Angeles on day one and return on day six. Travel to San Diego, San Francisco, and Yosemite National Park. Make notes about each day, including your transportation and the costs.

	San Diego	San Francisco	Yosemite
Los Angeles	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> bus $40, 4 hours car $80, 3 hours plane $130, 1 hour 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> bus $60, 6 hours car $70, 8 hours plane $130, 1½ hours 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> bus $80, 7 hours car No service plane No service
San Diego		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> bus $135 round trip, 12 hours car No service plane $250, 1½ hours 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> bus $90, 10 hours car No service plane No service
San Francisco			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> bus $70, 4 hours car $60, 3 hours plane No service

2. Join another pair. Explain how you decided to spend your money.

Reading

A A charity is an organization that raises money to help people, animals, or the environment. Look at the logos for three charities and discuss the questions.

1. Do you know these charities? What do they do?
2. How do charities raise money?

American Red Cross

B MY WORLD What charities are important in your country? What do they do?

C Read the first paragraph of the article. Check (✓) two sentences that are true about crowdfunding.

1. A lot of people give small amounts of money online.
2. It's only for people who want to start a business.
3. It can help musicians who want to make an album.
4. It's not very useful for charities.

D Read the rest of the article. What do these numbers refer to?

$125,000 65 feet 7,700 square miles $200

E Complete the chart. Use your notebook to write extra information.

	Problem	Action	Result
Sonam Wangchuk	People needed water.
Size of Wales		It bought 7,700 square miles of rainforest.
Watsi			People can pay for medical help.

GOAL CHECK

In groups, plan how you will raise $1,000 for one of these charities:

- a group that gives free food to families in need
- a charity for dogs and cats that needs a new building
- a children's hospital that needs medical equipment

Plan how you will raise money. Design a poster for your charity. Present your ideas and poster to the class.

Crowdfunding for a Better World

"Crowdfunding" is a way of raising money from a large number of people on the internet. These days, there are a lot of different crowdfunding websites, but when crowdfunding began, it was mostly used by new businesses. Nowadays, people use it for a lot of different reasons, not just for business. For example, musicians who want to make an album can ask fans for money, a photographer can get money for a new book, and—increasingly—different types of charities raise money this way. Here are three examples of how crowdfunding has made a real difference in the world.

Bringing water

Sonam Wangchuk, an engineer, raised $125,000 on a crowdfunding site to build an “ice stupa.” In higher parts of the Himalayas, the glaciers are disappearing, so local people have less water in the spring for growing crops. So Sonam invented a way to bring water up the Himalayas in the winter from the lower parts of the mountains that have more water. As water comes out of a pipe, it freezes and becomes the 65-foot-tall ice stupa. Then, in the spring, the stupa melts and people have water for their fields.

Saving the rainforest

The organization “Size of Wales” wants to save rainforests because they are disappearing. It has already saved 7,700 square miles of rainforest (that’s the same size as the country, Wales). Now it plans to save another 7,700. Crowdfunding is important for the organization because people give money, but it’s also a good way to make people think about the problem of climate change.

Making people better

For people in poor countries, healthcare is very expensive. But the crowdfunding site Watsi has a solution. On the Watsi site, people describe their medical problems. For example, perhaps there’s a farmer who needs $200 to pay for an operation on his mouth, or maybe there’s a college student who can’t hear. If she receives $400, she can pay for an operation on her ears. When people read about these individuals, they want to give them the money they need.

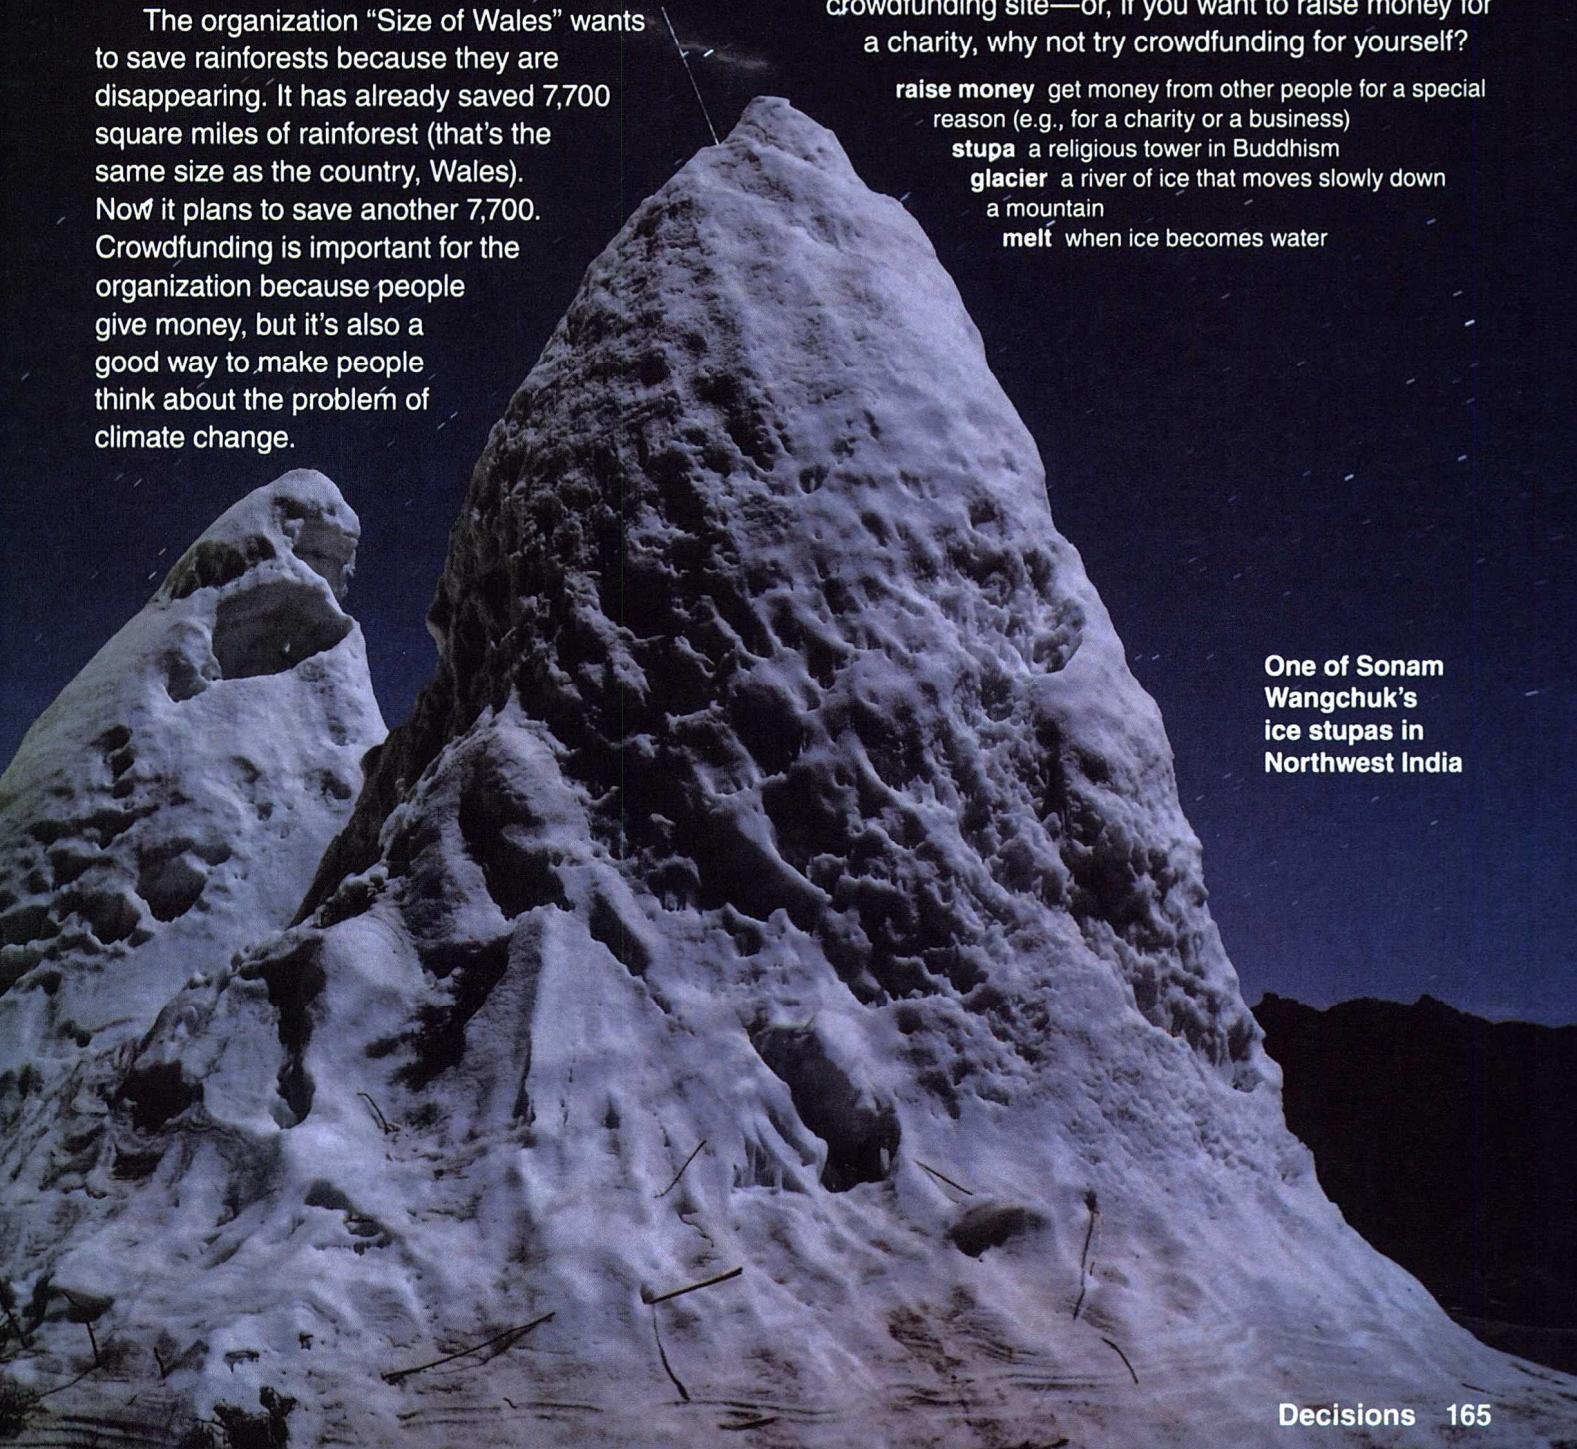

So if you want to give money to a charity, visit a crowdfunding site—or, if you want to raise money for a charity, why not try crowdfunding for yourself?

raise money get money from other people for a special reason (e.g., for a charity or a business)

stupa a religious tower in Buddhism glacier a river of ice that moves slowly down a mountain melt when ice becomes water

One of Sonam Wangchuk’s ice stupas in Northwest India

E GOAL Compare and Contrast Options

Communication

A MY WORLD We all have to make big decisions sometimes. What big decisions have you made? What big decisions do you think you will make in the future? Tell the class.

B In pairs, look at the list of life decisions. Discuss and rank them from 1 to 8 (1 = the most difficult decision, 8 = the easiest decision).

<input type="checkbox"/> moving to another country	<input type="checkbox"/> choosing a phone
<input type="checkbox"/> asking someone to marry you	<input type="checkbox"/> deciding what to wear to a party
<input type="checkbox"/> buying your first car	<input type="checkbox"/> buying a house
<input type="checkbox"/> applying for a job	<input type="checkbox"/> getting a student loan

C Work in groups. Three of your friends need to make big decisions. Discuss each situation and make a list of choices. Decide what your friend should do.

1. A friend works in a restaurant and he's a very good chef. He wants to open his own restaurant, but he needs money to start the business. He thinks he should ask his bank for a loan. What should he do?

2. A friend works for a large company. The company wants her to work in another country for two years. She likes her job, but she also likes her home and her friends. What should she do?

3. A friend won over $1,000 in the lottery. She is a student and never has much money. She also does volunteer work with a charity for animals. The charity always needs more money. What should she do?

A woman cares for cats at a cat and dog rescue charity in Hiroshima, Japan.

If he asks for a loan, he'll pay interest.

But if she goes away, she won't be near her friends.

She should keep the money!

D Compare your decisions for each friend with another group.

Writing

E Read the email. Which of the three friends in C is this person writing to?

Hi!

It was great to hear your news! It's exciting, but you have a really difficult decision to make. On the one hand, moving to a new country is an amazing opportunity. If you live there, you'll learn a new language and see some amazing new places! On the other hand, you'll miss your family and friends.

However, if you go, we'll all come and visit you! And also, it's only for two years. That isn't very long. So, overall, I think you should go!

F Read the information below and then underline the words for comparing and contrasting in the email in E.

WRITING SKILL: Compare and Contrast

When you compare and contrast different ideas and choices, you can use these linking words and phrases:

Describing similarities: It also ... / In addition, ... / Similarly, ... / Both ...

Comparing differences: On the one hand, ... on the other hand, ... / However, ... / In contrast ...

Concluding: Overall, ... / On the whole, ... / I think ... / In conclusion, ...

G Complete the sentences with words for comparing and contrasting.

1. _____ I think that doing volunteer work is the best choice.
2. On the one hand, going to the game would be fun, _____, I have a test tomorrow and need to study!
3. She needs a new car, so she should keep the money. _____, she also needs to pay for her classes soon.

GOAL CHECK Compare and Contrast Options

1. Write an email to one of the other friends in C. Help your friend make a decision. Remember to use linking words and phrases to compare and contrast in your email.
2. Afterwards, exchange your emails in pairs. Do you think your partner gave good advice? Why?

7. The poll of people in 136 countries shows that most people feel / everyone feels happier when they give money to charity.

E Complete these sentences with your own words. Then compare your ideas in groups.

1. The most interesting thing was that _____

2. One surprising thing was that _____

3. One question I would like to ask Michael is: _____

F In groups, write a questionnaire with six questions about money and happiness.

Use ideas from Michael's talk and your own ideas.

G Take turns asking your questions with other groups. Then present your results to the class. What did you find out about your class?

A color photograph capturing a moment of interaction between two individuals on a city street. In the foreground, a man with a beard and glasses, wearing a grey t-shirt and dark jeans, is bent over, handing a small object to a person sitting on the ground. The person receiving the object is wearing a dark jacket and a purple knit beanie. The setting is an urban environment with a large, ornate dome, likely St. Paul's Cathedral, visible in the background across a bridge. Construction cranes are visible on the right side of the image.

A man gives money to a homeless person in London, England.

Lesson A

Count and Non-Count Nouns

There are two types of nouns:

- Count nouns (you can count them): 1 apple, 2 apples, 3 apples ...
- Non-count nouns (you cannot count them): bread, juice, cheese ...

	Singular	Plural
Count nouns	This is a banana.	These are bananas.
Non-count nouns	This is water.	These are waters.

For regular count nouns, add -s or -es to form the plural. Non-count nouns do not have a plural form.

a / an, some, and any

	Count nouns		Non-count nouns
	Singular	Plural
Statement	It's a lemon.	There are some eggs in the fridge.	There is some cheese in the fridge.
Negative	I don't have an egg.	There aren't any eggs in the fridge.	I don't have any milk.
Question	Do you have an orange?	Are there any apples?	Do you have any orange juice?

a / an

Use a / an with singular count nouns: a lemon, an egg.

Use a before a noun with a consonant sound: a potato, a banana.

Use an before a noun with a vowel sound: an orange, an apple.

Use some in affirmative statements with plural count nouns and non-count nouns:

I have some eggs. / You have some cheese.

You can also use some for questions with could: Could I have some milk?

any

Use any with count nouns and non-count nouns in:

- Negative statements: There aren't any bananas. / I don't have any butter.
- Questions: Are there any bananas? Do you have any butter?

A Cross out one incorrect word in each group of count nouns or non-count nouns.

- apple / orange / banana / milk
- juice / bread / eggs / water
- tea / tomato / lemon / sausage
- banana / butter / onion / hamburger
- salad / orange / water / coffee

B Match the two halves of the sentences.

- I have an _____
- There's a _____
- There aren't any _____
- We don't have _____
- Do you have _____
- Are there any _____

a. any rice?

Lesson C

How much and How many with Quantifiers

Information Questions		Quantifiers
		++++	+	-
Count Nouns	How many oranges do you need?	I need lots of / a lot of oranges.	I need a few oranges.	I don't need many oranges.

Non-count Nouns	How much bread do we have?	We have lots of / a lot of bread.	We have a little bread.	We don't have much bread.
-----------------	----------------------------	------------------------------------------	--------------------------------	----------------------------------

With count nouns, ask about quantities with How many...?
With non-count nouns, ask about quantities with How much...?

Use a lot of / lots of to talk about large quantities with count and non-count nouns. A lot of is slightly more common in American English. Lots of is more common in British English.

Use a few and not many to talk about small quantities with count nouns.

Use a little and not much to talk about small quantities with non-count nouns.

For short answers, say: a few, a little, not many, not much.

How many do you need? A few.

How much do we have? A little.

With short answers, you can also say A lot (not Lots of) with count or non-count noun questions:

How many do you need? A lot.

How much do we have? A lot.

D Complete the sentences using a little or a few.

- There is only _____ tuna salad in the fridge.
- We only need _____ apples.
- Please bring _____ bananas.
- I only take _____ sugar in my coffee.
- There are just _____ sausages left.
- A: How many onions do you have?
B: _____
- A: How much soup is there?
B: _____

E Write the opposite sentence using the word in parentheses.

- There are a lot of potatoes on the table. (many)
There aren't many potatoes on the table.
- There are a lot of potatoes on the table. (few)

- I have a little water in my bottle. (lots)

- There's a lot of cheese in this package. (little)

- We need a lot of broccoli for dinner. (much)

F Write in the missing words.

- A: How _____ do you want?
B: Just a little.
- A: How many lemons do we need?
B: It's a big party, so we need _____ of them.
- A: How _____ cookies are there?
B: Not many. Just a _____ at the bottom of the box.
- A: How much juice do I need to buy?
B: Only a _____.

UNIT 5

Lesson A

Present Continuous

Form the present continuous with to be + verb + -ing. We use the present continuous to talk about things that are happening now (or around the time of speaking).

Affirmative and Negative Statements

I	am ('m) am not ('m not)	playing soccer (now).
He / She / It	is ('s) is not (isn't)
You / We / They	are ('re) are not (aren't)

Yes / No Questions

Am	I	playing soccer?
Are	you / we / they
Is	he / she / it

Short Answers

Affirmative
Yes,	I	am.
	he / she / it	is.
	you / we / they	are.
Negative
No,	I	'm not.
	he / she / it	isn't.
	you / we / they	aren't.

Wh- Questions

What	am	I	doing?
Where	is	he / she / it	going?
How long	are	you / we / they	staying?

Spelling rules:

Add -ing to most verbs: play → playing, do → doing

With verbs ending with a consonant + e, drop the e before adding -ing: have → having, come → coming

Double the final consonant for verbs that end in consonant-vowel-consonant (not including verbs ending in -w, -x, or -y): sit → sitting

A Write complete sentences using the present continuous.

- They / play / baseball / now. They're playing baseball now.
- I / not / study / today. _____
- It / rain / outside. _____
- We / not / do / any exercise. _____
- Sarah / climb / and / hike / in the mountains. _____
- My family / go / on vacation / this morning. _____
- Barcelona / play / against Real Madrid today. _____
- I / do / yoga. _____

B Match the questions to the answers.

- Are you working today? _____
- Is he driving to your house? _____
- What are Peter and Sue doing? _____
- Where are you walking? _____
- Are we meeting in this room? _____
- What are you watching? _____
 - No, he isn't. He's taking the bus.
 - In Yosemite park. It's beautiful!
 - I think they're studying today.
 - Yes, we are. Let's go in.
 - Basketball.
 - No, I'm not. I have a day off.

Simple Present and Present Continuous

Use the simple present to talk about:

- Habits and routines: I play soccer once a week.
- Things that are true all the time: In soccer, each team has 11 players.

Use the present continuous to talk about:

- Things that are happening now or at the moment of speaking: I'm studying English (at the moment).
- Things that are happening around the time of speaking or temporary situations: I'm working for a company in London.

C Write the verbs in parentheses in the simple present or the present continuous.

Helen: Hi, Chen. It's Helen. I (1) _____ (call) from the gym.

Chen: What sports (2) _____ (you / do) there?

Helen: I (3) _____ (not / do) anything at the moment. I (4) _____ (eat) lunch in the cafe! Meet me here!

Chen: Sorry, but Jill and I (5) _____ (play) tennis. We're at the park now.

Helen: But you usually (6) _____ (play) tennis on Tuesdays.

Chen: I know, but Jill (7) _____ (have) a new job and she (8) _____ (work) on Tuesdays.

Lesson C

Stative Verbs

like	Why do you like outdoor sports?	know	You know I can't swim.
hate	I hate indoor sports.	want	I don't want to go bungee jumping.
prefer	Do you prefer outdoor sports?	cost	The equipment costs a lot of money.

Stative verbs refer to states, thoughts, and feelings. We don't often use them with the present continuous:

I love tennis. I'm loving tennis.

I don't understand the answer to this question.

~~I'm not understanding the answer to this question.~~

I hate outdoor sports. I am hating outdoor sports.

D Underline the correct verb in these sentences.

1. Skiing costs / is costing a lot of money.

7. I like rock climbing, but my friend hates / is hating it.
8. Frederick can't come. He does / is doing his homework.

UNIT 6

Lesson A

Simple Past

I / You / He / She / It / We / They	worked lived	in Singapore in 2018.
-------------------------------------	-------------------------------	-----------------------

Use the simple past to talk about finished actions and events.

Add -ed to regular verbs to form the simple past.

Regular verbs include:

arrive – arrived	pack – packed
ask – asked	play – played
change – changed	relax – relaxed
help – helped	return – returned learn – learned	stay – stayed like – liked	travel – traveled
love – loved	visit – visited
need – needed	want – wanted

Spelling rules:

Add -ed to most verbs. There are some exceptions:

- Two syllable verbs ending with -y: study – studied (not studied)
- Verbs ending with -e: like – liked, live – lived
- Double the last consonant with verbs ending in a vowel + a consonant: stop – stopped

Some verbs are irregular (such as go and fly). Do not add -ed.

I / You / He / She / It / We / They	went flew	to Singapore in 2018.
-------------------------------------	----------------------------	-----------------------

Other irregular verbs include:

buy – bought	pay – paid
drink – drank	say – said
eat – ate	see – saw
find – found	spend – spent have – had	take – took know – knew	tell – told
leave – left	think – thought

Negative

Lesson C

Sensory Verbs

Subject	Verb	Adjective
The food	smells	delicious.
It	feels	soft.
You	look	cold.
It	tastes	salty.
He	sounds	tired.

Sensory verbs are stative verbs (see page 176).

They are not usually used in the present continuous:

The food smells delicious. The food is smelling delicious.

They are usually followed by an adjective:

The food smells delicious. / It feels soft.

C Complete the sentences about the photos with the words in the box.

awful dirty green loud salty soft sweet wet

- Those taste _____ sweet. Try one!
- That sounds too _____. Turn it down!

UNIT 8

Lesson A

Future: be going to

Statements

I	am 'm	going to	buy a new car. get a job. clean the house.
He She It	is 's
You We They	are 're

Use be going to to talk about plans for the future.

Negatives

I	am not 'm not	going to	get married. do the laundry. take a vacation.
He She It	is not isn't
You We They	are not aren't

Yes / No Questions

Are	you	going to	take a vacation?	Short Answers
Is	he			Yes, I am . / No, I'm not . Yes, he is . / No, he isn't .

Wh- Questions

When are you going to do the laundry?	Answers
Where are you going to get a job?	Tomorrow. At this store.

We often use be going to with these time expressions: tomorrow, next Sunday/ week / year.

A Match the questions and the answers.

- Where are you going to have lunch today? _____
- Are you going to invite Ajay to the party? _____
- What are you going to do on Saturday? _____
- When is Nicola going to arrive? _____
- Is it going to rain tonight? _____

- Yes, I am. He loves dancing.
- Maybe. You should take an umbrella.

B: (6) _____ (you / buy) anything for yourself?

A: Maybe. But not now.

Lesson C

Will

Statements and Negatives

I / You / He / She /	will ('ll)	be	an astronaut
It / We / They	will not (won't)		some day.

Use will + verb to make predictions about the future.

Yes / No Questions

Will	I / you / he / she /	be	famous?	Short Answers
	it / we / they			Yes, I will . / No, I won't .

C Complete the sentences with will or won't and a verb from the box.

be become drive get have

- They work hard, so I think they _____ 'll be rich one day.
- Everyone _____ electric cars by 2050.
- Humans _____ any oil in the future.
- _____ I _____ a prize if I win the game?
- You _____ a scientist, but I think you'll be a science teacher.

Will and be going to

We can use will and be going to to talk about future predictions. While going to was traditionally used to talk about plans and will was traditionally used to talk about predictions, there is little or no difference in meaning.

D Rewrite the questions using be going to or will.

be going to	will
1. Is it going to rain tomorrow?
2.	Will it be sunny this afternoon?
3. Are we going to have a hot summer this year?
4.	What will the weather be like this weekend?
5. Is it going to be cloudy tomorrow?
6.	Will we finish the book before the end of the year?
7. Are temperatures going to rise in the next 100 years?
8.	Will you get good grades?

Will + Adverb of Certainty

We often use the adverbs certainly, definitely, probably, and possibly with will for predictions. These adverbs say if the speaker is more or less certain of something.

100% ↑	I'll definitely / certainly be happy.
	I'll probably live to be 100.
50%	I'll possibly be famous.
0% ↓	I probably won't go out tomorrow night.
	I definitely won't speak perfect English.

Note the word order:

(1) will + adverb

Robots will definitely / certainly do housework in the future.

Cars will probably fly in the future.

(2) adverb + won't

Humans probably won't watch TV in 2050.

I definitely won't travel into space.

E Put the adverb in the correct position.

1. We will travel to Mars by 2030. (certainly)
2. Humans won't drive cars in the 22nd century. (definitely)
3. My brother will become a famous singer. (possibly)
4. I won't pass the test. (probably)

UNIT 9

Lesson A

Comparatives

Change an adjective into the comparative form to compare two things:

Your car is faster than mine.

These socks are smaller than those ones.

This book is more interesting than my last one.

My phone is better than yours.

The comparative form is often followed by than. You can also add much to make the comparison stronger:

These socks are much smaller than those ones.

My phone is much better than yours.

Regular Adjectives

Adjective	Comparative
cheap	cheaper
fast	faster
beautiful	more beautiful
fashionable	more fashionable

Spelling rules:

- Add -er to short adjectives to form the comparative: young – younger
- When the adjective ends in -e, add -r: large – larger
- Change adjectives ending in -y (after a consonant) to -i: happy – happier
- Double the final consonant on some adjectives ending with a vowel and a consonant: hot – hotter, big – bigger
- Add more or less before adjectives with two or more syllables: interesting – more / less interesting

Irregular Adjectives

Adjective	Comparative
good	better
bad	worse

A Complete the conversation with the comparative form of the adjectives in parentheses.

A: I like your new car. Was it expensive?

B: No, it was (1) _____ (cheap) than my old car. But it's much (2) _____ (fast)!

A: Can I sit in it?

B: Sure!

A: Oh, it's (3) _____ (comfortable) than your other car, too. It also feels (4) _____ (big) inside.

B: Yes, I think it is. The design is much (5) _____ (good).

B Make comparative sentences.

1. This motorcycle / fast / than / your car.

This motorcycle is faster than your car.

2. My brother / tall / you.

3. The Amazon River / long / the Ganges River.

4. Your apartment / much / big / mine.

Lesson C

Superlatives

Change an adjective into the superlative form to compare three or more things. Use the before the superlative form:

Your car is the fastest.

These socks are the smallest.

This book is the most interesting.

My phone is the best.

Regular Adjectives

Adjective	Superlative
cheap	the cheapest fast	the fastest
beautiful	the most beautiful
fashionable	the most fashionable

Spelling rules:

- Add -est to short adjectives to form the comparative: young – youngest
- When the adjective ends in -e, add -st: large – largest
- Change adjectives ending in -y (after a consonant) to -i: happy – happiest
- Double the final consonant on adjectives ending with a vowel and a consonant: hot – hottest, big – biggest
- Add most or least before adjectives with two or more syllables: beautiful – the most / least beautiful

Irregular Adjectives

Adjective	Superlative
good	best
bad	worst

C Complete the sentences with the superlative form of the adjectives in parentheses.

1. Mount Everest is the highest (high) mountain in the world.

2. Mexican food is hotter than Chinese food, but Indian food is _____. (hot)

3. Which one is _____ (cheap)?

4. I like a lot of European cities, but Paris is _____ (beautiful).

6. I think I'm _____ (bad) math student in my class.

7. Cotton is cheaper than silk, but polyester is _____ (cheap) material.

8. I like those two sweaters, but this one is _____ (warm).

D Add the missing adjectives, comparatives, or superlatives to the table.

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative
slow	slower	slowest
short	1.	shortest
2.	bigger	3.
4.	5.	heaviest dangerous	6.	7.
8.	better	9.

E Write the missing letters to complete the words.

Some are comparatives and some are superlatives.

1. My sister is old _____ than me.

2. I'm the old _____ student in my class.

3. New York is big _____ than San Francisco.

4. I think my grandfather is the happ _____ person in the world!

5. This movie is funn _____ than the other one.

6. That cafe serves the wors _____ food in the world! It's horrible.

UNIT 10

Lesson A

Modals (could, should, must); have to

You can use the modal verbs could, should, must, and the verb have to to give advice.

- Make suggestions and give gentle advice with could: You could turn the TV off and go outside.
- Give strong advice with should or shouldn't: You should run a marathon. / You shouldn't drive so fast.
- Sometimes we also use ought to for giving strong advice: You ought to run a marathon. / You ought not to run a marathon. The negative is ought not to. It is very uncommon in American English.
- Express obligation and give very strong advice with must or have to: You must drink more water! You have to drink more water!

Could, should, ought to, and must are modal verbs. With modal verbs:

- Don't use a third person -s: You should go. You shoulds go.
- Don't use the auxiliary do: I couldn't go. I don't could go.
- Don't use to before the next verb (except with ought to): You should get exercise. You should to get exercise.

Have to is not a modal verb, but it has a similar meaning to must when we give advice:

You have to stop smoking. = You must stop smoking.

A Check (✓) the correct sentences. Rewrite the incorrect sentences (✗).

1. You should go on a diet. ✓
2. ~~She musts go to bed early.~~ ✗ She must go to bed early.
3. You don't should take the day off.
4. Bill should go by bus.
5. You could to get a new job.
6. Sally must stop sunbathing.
7. My father should to stop eating junk food.
8. Alicia has to work harder.

B Read each comment and complete the advice with a verb and your own words.

1. I work very long hours.
You could say "no" to your boss more often. (gentle advice)
2. I always go to bed late.
You _____ (strong advice)
3. I never get 100% on tests at school.
You _____ (very strong advice)
4. I want to have fun this weekend.
You _____ (gentle advice)

5. I don't eat any fruit or vegetables.

You _____ . (strong advice)

6. I want a better car.

You _____ . (very strong advice)

Lesson C

Questions with How

You can ask questions with How for different reasons.

How much / How many

- Use how much to ask about the quantity of non-count nouns: How much water is there? How much do you weigh?
- Use how many to ask about the quantity of count nouns: How many people live in this house? How many apples do you want?

How + Adjective

- Use how old to ask about age: How old are you? How old is this car?
- Use how long to ask about length or a period of time: How long is the movie? How long are you staying at the hotel?
- Use how tall to ask about human height or how high for the height of objects: How tall are you? How high is Mount Everest?
- Use how big to ask about size: How big is your house?
- Use how far to ask about distance: How far is it from Shanghai to Bangkok?

How often

Use how often to ask about frequency: How often do you go to the movies? How often is there a train to Kyoto?

How

Ask about the way you do something with How:

A: How do you get downtown?

B: Go straight down this street.

A: How does this photocopier work?

B: Press the green button.

Ask everyday questions with How:

Short Answers	Yes, I have . / Yes, he has . No, I haven't . / No, she hasn't .
Wh- Questions	What have you done today? Where has she been ? How long have they known ?

Form the present perfect with has / have + past participle. We can use the present perfect (like the simple past) to talk about completed actions in the past, but without saying when they happened.

Past Participles

Regular verbs end in -ed:

walk – walked, clean – cleaned, pass – passed, graduate – graduated, visit – visited

Irregular verbs have irregular past participles:
cut – cut, buy – bought, have – had, go – gone, be – been, take – taken, pay – paid, put – put

A Write the irregular past participles from the box next to the correct verb.

1. buy _____	7. read _____
2. do _____	8. say _____
3. drink _____	9. speak _____
4. eat _____	10. sweep _____
5. make _____	11. tell _____
6. meet _____	12. win _____

B Complete the conversation with the present perfect.

1. A: What (1) _____ (you, do) today?

B: Nothing very exciting. I (2) _____ (clean) the house, and I (3) _____ (cook) dinner. (4) _____ (you, have) an interesting day?

A: No, not really. (5) _____ (I, be) sick. I (6) _____ (not do) anything.

2. A: Today, I (1) _____ (pay the bills) and I (2) _____ (buy the groceries). (3) _____ (you, have) an interesting day?

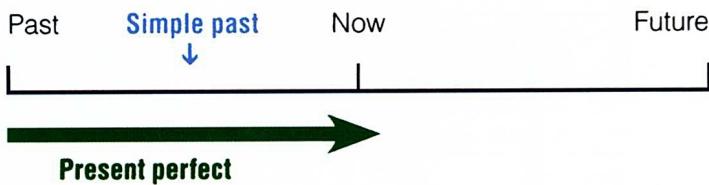

B: Well, I (4) _____ (visit) a friend. And I (5) _____ (buy) some clothes for my new job.

Lesson C

Present Perfect vs Simple Past

Use the present perfect to talk about an action in the past when you don't know (or say) when the action happened:
Claudio has been to many countries.

Use the simple past to talk about an action in the past when you know (and say) when the action happened:
Claudio went to Thailand yesterday.

Present Perfect Have you ever Questions

We often ask Have you ever questions to ask about life experiences:

Have you ever been to Thailand?

For negative answers, use never:

No, I've never been to Thailand.

With the simple past, we often use these time expressions: yesterday, last week / month / year, in 2010:

They went to Thailand last year.

Did he go to Thailand last year?

We use the zero conditional to:

- talk about facts: If you throw a ball up, it comes down.
- talk about things that are usually true: If there are clouds, it often rains.
- give instructions: If you press this button, your laptop starts.
- give advice: If you don't understand a word, ask your teacher.

With the zero conditional, you can start with the if clause or the main clause.

If you have a loan, you pay interest. = You pay interest if you have a loan.

Punctuation

If you start with the if clause, put a comma after it: If you need help, ask your teacher.

If you start with the main clause, don't use a comma: Ask your teacher if you need help.

C Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verb in parentheses.

1. Last summer, we _____ (go) to the Maldives.
2. I _____ (live) in the same house all my life.
3. John _____ (never travel) abroad.
4. Spain _____ (win) the World Cup in 2010.
5. Brazil _____ (win) the World Cup five times.

D Complete the conversations with the correct form of the verbs in parentheses.

1. A: _____ (you / pass) your driving test?
B: Yes. I _____ (take) it in January, and I _____ (pass) the first time.
2. A: _____ (you / be) to Europe?
B: Yes, I have. I _____ (go) to Germany last year.

A Complete the rules with the words in the box.

ask a friend finish it on time if you have a question if you work with a partner learn from it leave the classroom listen!

1. If your teacher speaks, _____
2. If you have homework, _____
3. If you don't know the answer to a question, _____
4. Try to use English _____
5. If you make a mistake, _____
6. Raise your hand _____
7. If the bell rings, _____

B Write sentences with the zero conditional.

1. traffic light / red / not drive
If the traffic light is red, do not drive.
2. you heat ice / melts

3. you press this switch / light turns on

4. you add five and five / get ten

5. you feel sick / take some medicine

UNIT 12

Lesson A

Real Conditionals: The Zero Conditional

If Clause (Simple Present)	Main Clause (Simple Present or Imperative)
If you have a loan,	you pay interest.
If you borrow money,	remember to pay it back.

Lesson C

Real Conditionals: The First Conditional

If Clause (Simple Present)	Main Clause (Will for Future)
If you leave a message,	I will call you.
If you don't study ,	you won't pass the test.

We use the first conditional to talk about a possible future action. Use the simple present in the if clause and will / won't to talk about the future action or result in the main clause.

With the first conditional, you can start with the if clause or the main clause. If you start with the if clause, use a comma between the clauses:

If you go now, you'll catch your train. = You'll catch your train if you go now.

C Complete the first conditional sentences with the correct form of the verbs in parentheses.

1. If you meet the bank manager, she 'll ask (ask) you some questions.
2. If he (be) late for work again, he'll lose his job.
3. You (catch) the bus if you run.
4. I'll send you the document if you (give) me your email address.

5. If it (stop) raining, we'll go for a walk.

6. The police will stop her if she (drive) faster than the speed limit.

7. If you (not give) me any chocolate, I'll tell Mom and Dad!

8. If I'm tired tonight, I (not go) out with my friends.

D Read the sentences with the zero conditional and the first conditional. Underline the correct verb form.

1. If you need some money, go / will go to the ATM.
2. Put on your coat if it rains / will rain.
3. If our friends come tonight, we have / 'll have a party.
4. If you don't pay me, I didn't do / won't do the work.
5. If you press / will press this button, the washing machine turns off.
6. We meet / 'll meet you at the airport if we have time tomorrow.
7. If you take a vacation next summer, where do / will you go?
8. I ask / 'll ask my parents for the money if the bank doesn't give me a loan.
